Late economic filing by officeholders

Supervisor of Assessments James Barton should not be ousted due to late filing of required economic interest data, since many other Madison County officials also filed late, Barton's attorney said at a hearing Thursday in East Alton.

Attorney J. William Lucco said more than a dozen officials were lax in submitting the forms, including State's Attorney Don Weber, a longtime opponent of Barton.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE Norman Kinder was asked to dismiss the suit filed by Special Prosecutor Bruce D. Locher. Lucco said it was discriminatory and that Locher had no authority to file it. Kinder will rule later.

Barton is to leave the assessment job Dec. 31 when his current appointment expires. Locher argued that the state law on filing economic in-

City's future at stake Nov. 6, citizens say

Asserting that the quality and autonomy of Granite City schools — and the future of Granite City itself — are threatened, the Citizens Committee for Continued Education is calling on Granite City voters to vote "yes" on school bond issues 199 and 223 on Nov. 6.

Citizens Committee Chairman Mack G. Johnson said the passage of these two issues "will allow the Granite City schools to pay off a mounting debt while maintaining their tradition of excellent education thus throwing the district to escape the threat of state probation and the possible consolidation of Granite City schools into neighboring school districts."

"THE STAKES ARE not just our schools, but the future of our community," Johnson said. "When the quality of education declines, a three-part cycle of community decline usually follows:

1. "Since people don't want to move into neighborhoods where the schools are going downhill, property

Konzen moderator

The Granite City school election forum at 7 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium will be moderated by Attorney Leo Konzen, it was announced today.

The forum will last from 7 to 8:30.

MACK G. JOHNSON, chairman of Citizens for Continued Education, will present a summary of the two proposals—issuing working cash fund bonds and increasing the education fund rate limit.

The evening will focus on comments and questions from the audience, and all are being urged to attend. Citizen leaders, the Board of Education and school personnel will be present to respond.

STATE HONORS are accorded Victor H. Koenig, right, who retires this week as Emergency Services and Disaster Agency coordinator for Granite City after 22 years. State ESDA Coordinator E. Jones brings greetings from Gov. James R. Thompson and a plaque for dedication to local, state and national Civil Defense programs, spanning a 40-year period. The presentation took place at a testimonial dinner Saturday night when more than 100 friends, colleagues and officials paid tribute to the Granite Cityan.

Halloween parade Wednesday night

The annual Moose Lodge Halloween parade will headline activities set for Wednesday night in the Quad-City area.

The parade will begin in downtown Granite City at 7 p.m. The event is also sponsored by the Downtown Granite City Merchants Association, whose members will keep their stores open that evening.

THOSE MARCHING in the parade in costume will be judged and will be eligible for prizes. Categories will be the most original, the funniest costume and the best dressed. More than $100 in awards will be presented to winners.

Paraders are to gather prior to 7 p.m. outside City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave., where identification numbers will be distributed.

Rolling Nobles of the Almad Shrine will lead the parade south on State Street to 18th Street, west to Delmar Avenue and north to Niedringhaus Avenue, returning eastward to City Hall for the judging.

ALSO ON WEDNESDAY, Marshall School children, teachers and parents of the children will conduct a Halloween walk through The Anchorage residential area to collect funds for the Reading is Fundamental (RIF) program. The walk will begin at 1 p.m.

Contributions to RIF will help provide four books to each child during the school year.

Children not participating in special events are being asked by local police officials to limit their trick-or-treating to the hours of 6 to 9 p.m. Wednesday. Children are to visit homes only in their own neighborhood. Goal of the restriction is to allow policemen and neighbors to monitor the children's well-being.

PARENTS MAY HAVE their child's candy X-rayed free at St. Elizabeth Medical Center from 7 until 10 Halloween night. They may bring the candy in small- or medium-sized bags to the Radiology Department on the 21st Street side of the hospital. Free parking will be available in the 21st Street garage that evening.

A similar X-ray plan is being offered from 6 to 10 p.m. Wednesday at Anderson Hospital, Highway 162 east of Highway 159, Maryville. Lexington subdivision youngsters through age 15 will attend a Halloween party at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the 2500 block of Revere's Route, where Mayor Paul Schuler will judge costumes. Decorations, refreshments, games and treats have been planned by Jackie Harris, Winnie Osborne, Linda Sharp and Dianne Wallace.

Bus fare to be cut

The Madison County Transit Board will lower fares on all non-express Bi-State bus routes in the county effective Jan. 1, 1985, it was announced Friday by Bill Haine, board chairman. Approval of the Bi-State board will also be required.

Haine said, the reduction follows the board's original mandate to keep fares at the lowest possible level for citizens of the county, and is in line with previous actions taken both in Madison and St. Clair counties.

"WE ARE REDUCING fares on all local routes to 50-cents for adults and 25-cents for children, elderly and the handicapped," said Haine.

"Our goal is to encourage more people to ride the bus. By providing better and less expensive service for bus riders in Madison County, we hope to achieve that goal."

On Aug. 15, 1983, the fare on five local Madison County routes that operate only within Illinois was reduced to 50-cents. On Sept. 3, 1984, the Collinsville-Belleville route was added to the reduced fare list.

THE REDUCTION, on Jan. 1 will affect three more local routes that cross into Missouri.

Since Jan. 1 there will be a new Illinois boarding area in St. Louis under Interstate 70 on Washington Avenue, potentially causing confusion between Missouri and Illinois boarding fares will be avoided, Haine said.

A public hearing date regarding the reduced fare will be announced later.

MADISON COUNTY routes that will have fares reduced on Jan. 1 are: 523-State Central, 513-Alton-St. Louis and 530-McKinley Bridge.

Routes that had fares reduced previously are: 523-State Central, 523-East Granite, 522-Pietown-Brown Street, 533-West Granite-Stockyards, 523-Eastgate-Belline and 507-Collinsville-Belleville. Zone and transfer charges will remain the same, and there will be no reduction in fares on express-rapid or park-rapid routes.

MOVING OUT. Greg McGee, supervisor of the Granite City Branch Library in Nameoki Village Shopping Center, prepares Friday for the relocation of the library branch to Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road. The library facility is being moved from the shopping center because the present lease is expiring. The branch is expected to open for business at its new temporary location by the end of November.

Allege odometers rolled back

Southern Illinois U.S. Attorney Frederick J. Hess announced Friday a series of federal mail fraud indictments following an investigation of used auto odometer rollbacks.

Archie Lapardus, 45, of the 2400 block of Edwards Street, doing business as L&S Auto Sales, was charged along with a former local resident, Gerald Thomas Myatt, 45, Highland, and Myatt's company, Gerin Enterprises, Collinsville.

ALSO CHARGED were David A. Newton, 39, and Day-Mar Holding Co., O'Fallon, and Don Nichols, the latter doing business as Nichols Auto Sales, Fairview Heights.

It is alleged that unsuspecting citizens were in danger of being defrauded because cars with high mileage were offered for sale as having low mileage.

THE INVESTIGATION was made by police officers of the Illinois secretary of state and by agents of the U.S. Postal Service.

After odometers were tampered with, the indictments contend, motor vehicle titles were obtained that listed false information.

Grand jurors at Benton, Ill., listed a total of more than 100 counts in their accusation Thursday.

GC Trust to be Central Bank

President Drew Karandjeff announced today that Granite City Trust and Savings Bank will change its name effective Jan. 1, 1985, to Central Bank-Granite City.

He explained that the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank shareholders organized a bank holding company in early 1983 to utilize a new law permitting a holding company to acquire other banks, data processing companies, consumer finance companies, leasing companies, underwrite credit life insurance and engage in certain other activities prohibited to a bank. The shareholders then exchanged their bank stock for stock in the newly formed holding company—Central Bank System, Inc.

CENTRAL BANC System Inc. now includes Central Bank-Marine, Central Bank-Glen Carbon, The Farmers & Merchants National Bank of Carlinville, and Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

With four banks operating in four separate and distinct trade areas, it was decided a name more appropriate and adequate was needed to stand out for its customers and prospects, Karandjeff said.

"The name change does not mean a change in officers, employees or ownership. The bank will continue to

Teen hit by car, dies

Matthew S. Chenevert, 15, of 3004 Willow Ave., was fatally injured at 6:55 p.m. Saturday when struck by an auto on Route 3.

The youth suffered critical injuries and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and later was transferred to Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis, according to Illinois State Police. He died there Sunday.

SEMC authorities said that Mr. Chenevert was transported by helicopter from the local medical center to the St. Louis hospital, where he died at 3 p.m. Sunday.

An ISP trooper said the youth was wearing camouflage clothing when he and three friends ran west across Route 3, about 200 feet south of the Rock Road intersection, and he was struck by the auto. The other three escaped injury.

Driver of the vehicle, Monica E. Westbrook, 21, of East Alton, was heading south on Route 3 in the right hand lane at the time. No citations were issued, the ISP officer said. MR. CHENEVERT was a sophomore at Granite City High School and was a manager of the Warriors soccer team last year. Funeral arrangements and additional details appear in today's obituary column.

National Steel profitable for third quarter

National Intergroup Inc. (NII) on Monday reported third-quarter net income of $7.6 million, or 18 cents per share of common stock, compared to $18.2 million, or 50 cents per share in the 1983 third quarter, which included a $12.6 million, or 63 cents per share, gain from the exchange of common stock for first mortgage bonds.

Sales totaled $584.4 million, compared to $678.6 million, reflecting the sale of 50 percent of National Steel Corp. to Nippon Kokan K. K. on Aug. 31, 1984.

The steel company's operations were "in the black" for the third quarter and earned $11.1 million, compared to a loss of $4.8 million in the 1983 third quarter.

Equity income from NII's 50 percent interest in National Steel Corp. for September totaled $3.5 million. Equity income from NII's 45 percent interest in First Nationwide Financial Corp. declined to $3.9 million, versus $7.3 million in last year's third quarter.

In the first nine months of 1984, NII's net income rose to $39.8 million, or $1.39 per share, on sales of $2.1 billion.

This compares to a net loss in the 1983 period of $116.4 million, or $6.27 per share, which included a $100 million charge related to sale of the former Weirton Steel Division and a $22.1 million gain from a debt-for-equity exchange. Sales totaled $2.2 billion in the 1983 period.

Operating income for the nine months of 1984 was $59.5 million, compared to a loss of $125.1 million in the 1983 period. Equity income from First Nationwide Financial for the nine-month period totaled $23.5 million, versus $21 million in the 1983 period.

Included equity income from National Steel in September, total equity income for the nine months of 1984 was $27.1 million.

Howard M. Love, NII's chairman and chief executive officer, said, "The lower earnings in the third quarter were principally caused by a slowdown in earnings at First Nationwide and National Steel."

"High" interest rates reduced First Nationwide's net interest margins.

"Volume and price weaknesses in the markets served by our metals businesses affected National Steel's profitability."

"While we expect these adverse conditions to persist in the short term, earnings should be in the black for the final three months and solidly in the black for the year."

"The most significant event in the third quarter was the completion on Aug. 31 of the sale of a 50 percent equity interest in National Steel Corp. to Nippon Kokan K. K. for $273 million in cash and $19 million in notes."

A comparison of the balance sheets for Dec. 31, 1983, and Sept. 30, 1984, illustrates the significance of this event.

"Total assets have been reduced from $2.6 billion to $1.5 billion, reflecting the sale and the reclassification of NII's investment in National Steel to an equity basis."

"The current ratio increased from 1.4 to one to 3.6 to one and the debt to total capitalization has decreased from 37.7 percent to 13.1 percent," Love related.

BURGLAR RANSACKS

An inventory was being taken at the home of Earl Branch, 2310 W. 24th St., where a burglar removed trim from a door glass to gain access to the dwelling. It was reported late last week. The house had been ransacked, with drawers being opened and items scattered throughout the rooms.

SERVICE TO VETERANS by State Senator Sam Vadalabene is recognized by the American Legion during a special ceremony last week at American Legion Post 113 in Granite City. The legislative award honors Vadalabene for "18 years of dedicated service to our veterans and their dependants while serving as a member of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the state of Illinois." From the left are Carrie Domino, Madison-Bond County coordinator; State Commander Roy B. Koehneman; Vadalabene and Wayne C. Saxton, state legislative chairman. Vadalabene said he is very proud of this award.

Illinois News

FRED H. UHLIG, acting director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, has announced that the Nutone Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, has initiated a voluntary corrective action plan that involves an estimated 250,000 paddle fans. Uhlig said that, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, the corrective action plan was announced after the company received several reports of fans falling from the ceiling. Uhlig explained that the paddle fans involved are those manufactured since May of 1983. Any Illinois consumer who has had a Nutone paddle fan installed since May 1, 1983, may call 1-800-543-8687 to arrange for a Nutone service representative to inspect the fan and install a retaining ring at no charge. Nutone fans can be identified by the name "Nutone" stamped on each of the four blade irons which connect the fan blades to the paddle fan.

GOVERNOR James R. Thompson has approved legislation, with changes, providing tax credits to encourage increased use of Illinois coal and to accelerate scientific research on new methods to remove pollutants from Illinois' high-sulfur coal. Under House Bill 2423, corporations will be allowed to claim, until Jan. 1, 1995, an Illinois income tax credit of 5 percent of the amount spent on equipment designed to maintain or increase the use of Illinois coal in any Illinois facility. The measure limits the credit to "direct coal combustion equipment and necessary pollution control equipment." A second provision of the legislation as amended by Thompson, provides a 20 percent tax credit to Illinois corporations which donate funds for sulfur removal research at the Illinois Center for Research on Sulfur in Coal.

GOVERNOR James R. Thompson has vetoed legislation that would have prohibited the news media from conducting exit polls within 100 feet of polling place entrances on election day. House Bill 2952, the governor said, "was intended to respond to the legitimate concern that exit polling and data have been subject to abuse. However, the abuses, cited on a national level, have, on the whole, not been committed in Illinois." The governor said that the goal of the measure could be better reached through voluntary action rather than government mandate.

DISABLED residents of Illinois will be able to obtain a special identification card, which will document their disability, under a law signed by Governor James R. Thompson. Senate Bill 1396 authorizes the Secretary of State to issue to disabled Illinois citizens, upon request an "Illinois Disabled Person Identification Card," certifying that the individuals have been diagnosed as disabled. The cards, issued at no cost to the handicapped and disabled, establish five types of disabilities, including blind, deaf, developmentally disabled, mentally ill and non-ambulatory handicaps. It also established two classes of disabilities: one for a person able to live independently or obtain gainful employment and a second classification, for a person unable to do either.

REDUCED LOSSES - Governor James R. Thompson has reported a dramatic reduction in insured fire losses paid in Illinois in 1983. The 34.6 percent ($24.9 million) reduction of 1983 over 1982 compares with 9 percent for 1982 over 1981 and with 23.8 percent of 1981 over 1980. The 1983 reduction over 1980 is 54.7 percent.

APPOINTMENTS - The governor has named Assistant United States Attorney Jeremy D. Margolis as Illinois' first Inspector General and that Thomas B. Kirkpatrick, director of the Department of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse, will resign from his current position to become the director of the Department of Public Health.

BEGINNING FARMERS AID - Under the provisions of House Bill 2574, the Illinois Farm Development Authority will be allowed to transfer $30 million in loan authority to programs for beginning farmers and soil conservation.

DEER HUNTING - Illinois deer hunters who've come to expect good whitetail hunting each fall should not be disappointed in 1984, according to the Conservation Department's forest game program. Last year, Illinois' 83,000 firearm deer hunters bagged more than 26,000 deer for a hunter success rate of 31 percent. The state's 36,220 bow hunters took an estimated 3,800 deer for an 11 percent success rate.

ENTER TRUCKING FIRM - Madison police searched the Kreider Trucking firm building, 1900 Collinsville Ave., Madison, for intruders during the weekend after a broken window was found in the business office. No one was located inside and an inventory was being compiled to determine what property may be missing.

Grand Aerie officer elect visits GC Eagle meeting

B. J. Sims, grand worthy president-elect of Odessa, Texas, visited the Granite City Fraternal Order of Eagles Home, 2556 Madison Ave., this month.

A dinner was served at tables decorated with vases containing blue, yellow, and white flowers. A large banner, behind the main table, welcomed the visiting official.

Bud Shaffer, Granite City Aerie chaplain and president of the Southwest Illinois Rye's Syndrome Chapter, gave the prayer prior to the dinner which was served by members of the local auxiliary.

Following the meal Harold Love, Granite City Aerie president, introduced the Grand Aerie, Illinois State and Zone representatives which included: B. J. Sims, who also is past grand trustee of the order, national past conductor, inside guard, chaplain, Southwest new Aerie Regional director and on the state level, past Texas state president, past Southwest regional president that covers the Eagle jurisdiction over Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma; W. A. (Red) McCawley (Shiloh Aerie 545) past grand worthy president and this year's national chairman to the Eagles national slow pitch softball tournament held recently in Dayton, Ohio; Ernie Branca (Herrin Aerie 1549) past Illinois state president and now chairman of the Illinois state board of trustees; John Crabb (Carthage Aerie 3515) past Illinois Regional president for Indiana and Illinois; Charles Knox (Springfield Aerie 437) Illinois state vice president; Charles (Rabbit) Landreth (Shiloh Aerie 545) Illinois state outside guard; Bob Stanton (Granite City Aerie) Illinois state trustee and Illinois chairman of the F.O.E. Diabetes Fund and Jimmy Durante Children's Fund; James Whirlgig (Shiloh Aerie) past Illinois Zone 3 vice president; Clyde E. Meyers (Alton Aerie 245 secretary) Illinois Zone 3 vice president; Iley Pearce (Herrin Aerie) Illinois Zone 3 chairman of the F.O.E. Heart Fund and past state trustee for Illinois and Missouri; Ron Dulay (Shiloh Aerie) Illinois Zone 3 chairman of the F.O.E. Cancer Fund; and Carl Buehler (Granite City Aerie) Illinois Zone 3 chairman of the Golden Eagle Fund and past Illinois State Eagle of the Year.

Love introduced the Granite City officers, Randy Odom, past worthy president; Larry Brumhart, vice president; Bud Shaffer, chaplain; Richard Wilbur, conductor; Mel Havron, inside guard; John E. Gray Sr., treasurer; Greg McCall, 3-year trustee; Larry Patton, 2-year trustee; and Chris VonNida, 1-year trustee.

Love stated "I would like to thank Angie Buehler (Granite City Auxiliary), our own Illinois State Auxiliary Trustee, and her committee for decorating the social room and preparing the meal. Also, Randy Odom, Gary Rainwater and Chris VonNida for preparing the building for the distinguished visitors.

B. J. Sims, said "I would like to thank the members of this Aerie and Auxiliary for the reception I have received since coming to Granite City. I have wanted to visit this club and find out how your Aerie is able to give so much to the Eagle Charity funds. In talking with some of your officers it was explained to me that Eaglesdom is thought very highly of in this club and it is in thinking like this, that we can help all Eagles and the nation to overcome these dreaded diseases that have plagued people so long."

Love A. McCawley stated, "B. J., I believe you have picked one of the finer clubs to visit in Illinois. I believe that this club can be an inspiration to all Eagle clubs. Over the years this club has worked to raise money to help our National Eagle Charity Funds, but over the past few years we have noticed that their contributions at the state level have been increasing.

On another note, you can see the third place trophy that the 11-man team, representing this Aerie, won at the National Eagles slow pitch softball tournament that was held in Dayton, Ohio. The trophy is nice but I wish you could have seen how these young men and their wives conducted themselves at the tournament. Their representation was the finest I have ever witnessed in all of Eagle functions."

After the dinner and speeches the men moved to the meeting hall where President Harold R. Love presided at the session and Richard Wilbur, conductor, presented the American Flag and led the members in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag, followed by the presentation of the Bible and Eagle by Wilbur.

The opening prayer was offered by Bud Shaffer, chaplain, and a report was given by Walter Rickert of the interviewing committee.

An initiation ceremony was held for Charles Collins Sr., Larry D. Patton Jr., Danny Flowers, Michael A. Whaley, George K. Yeager Sr. and Donald P. Wieland.

Members of the interviewing committee for the candidates were Walter Rickert, Lou Tourse and Pat McKinney, and the initiating team included Harold Love, Randy Odom, Larry W. Barnhart, Bud Shaffer, Bob Stanton and Mel Havron.

Sims spoke again noting that the Eagles raised over two million dollars for humanitarian purposes last year and have raised more than five million dollars to date for the Max Baer Heart Fund, for heart research, have donated more than six and one-half million dollars to the Cancer Fund and over two million dollars for Muscular Dystrophy and over five million for the Jimmy Durante Children's Fund for crippled children and three million for senior citizens and not one penny of the money contributed was used for expenses of any kind.

Also, that the Eagles dormitory at Boy's Town, Neb., the Eagles hall at Home On The Range For Boys, in North Dakota, the High Sky Ranch for Girls, near Midland, Texas, and 20 overseas trade schools, symbolize Eagle concern for young people.

Mel Havron, chairman of the Entertainment committee, reported that a Halloween costume dance will be held at 9 p.m. on Oct. 27 and that pies will be awarded for the best costumes in different categories.

Chris VonNida, co-chairman of the Senior Citizens committee, announced the Eagles annual senior citizens benefit dinner fund raiser will be held today at 7 p.m.

Love read a letter from Kate Ehrmann, executive secretary Jimmy Durante Children's Fund, Michel T. Gaffney, Director, which in part said, "This year, your Aerie raised $8,176.21 for the Jimmy Durante Children's Fund and this is being returned to you in the form of a grant of $5000 and $1,176."

"We appreciate the help your Aerie has given the Jimmy Durante Children's Fund and were under the impression all monies raised have been credited properly to your Aerie and then returned to you to establish of your choosing."

Richard Wilbur, conductor, escorted Bud Waters and Don E. Gray Sr. to the altar where Love presented both with gifts in recognition of their work for the fund.

The president adjourned the meeting following the closing ceremony conducted by Randy Odom, past junior president, and Bud Shaffer, chaplain, and Larry W. Barnhart, vice president.

Terminal RR police take 2 into custody

Mark A. Mathis, 17, of 2025a Madison Ave., and Wade R. Harris, 17, of 1001 Iowa St., Madison, were taken into custody by Terminal Railroad officers and held for local police late last week near the Terminal Railroad Office Building, 2016 Madison Ave.

While being questioned by the railroad police in the parking area after the pair allegedly was seen near the building, the two youths reportedly became belligerent and a minor scuffle ensued when they were taken inside the building, reports said.

In searching Harris, two cannabis cigarette butts allegedly were found in a jacket pocket. He was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis and was released at 11:40 a.m. Saturday upon posting a $52 cash bond.

Mathis was charged with disorderly conduct and was freed after posting a $52 cash bond.

TWO ARE INJURED AT ROUTE 3 AND WEST 5TH

Johnny E. Jones, 23, of 72 Shirwin Drive, was charged with disobeying a traffic control device and being in violation of his license classification late last week.

Jones was operating a 1978 Ford tractor truck, owned by J-C Hauling Co. of Milledale, Ill., which made a left turn onto W. 25th Street from the northbound lanes of Illinois Route 3.

His vehicle and an auto driven by Richard D. Smith Jr., 36, of Alton, who was southbound on Route 3, collided at the intersection.

Smith suffered an apparent minor injury. Reports noted that Bonnie S. Klunk, 32, of Alton, a passenger in his car, was injured and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Jones was released after signing the citations, agreeing to appear Nov. 30.

ACCIDENT LEADS TO DUI CHARGE AGAINST DRIVER

Robert R. Dunham, 40, Baytown, Tex., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident at 7:10 p.m. Wednesday after his car collided with a parked car.

Ed McDaniels, 39, St. Louis, was on McKinley Bridge, changing a tire, when Dunham's car ran into the back of his auto. Flares had been set out in a noticeable pattern behind McDaniels' car.

Purchase approved for GC street department

Granite City aldermen approved the purchase last week of a new street sweeper for the city street department.

The sweeper will be bought from Jack Mueller Sales of St. Louis at a cost of $69,500. The vehicle is a vacuum type with a broom. The department has used this type of sweeper on a trial basis.

Delivery of the sweeper will occur in 13 weeks.

The City Council approved hiring a temporary employee for the department. Warfield said the man would replace Walter Worthen, an employee who retired about six weeks ago. The replacement will work on sewer breaks as well as street repairs.

ARREST MOTORIST ON EDWARDSVILLE WARRANT

When a vehicle was stopped last week at West 21st Street and Rock Road, Michael D. Crockarell, 21, of 2405 Kilgore Drive, the driver, was arrested on an active warrant issued through the Edwardsville Police Department alleging failure to pay a fine on a charge of possession of alcohol.

Crockarell also was booked on a Granite City charge of illegal transportation of alcohol and a passenger, Jeffrey S. Means, 17, of 1608 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged with illegal possession of alcohol when several open bottles of beer allegedly were found in the vehicle.

Means was released on a notice to appear for a hearing and Crockarell was freed after posting a $102 cash bond.

STEAL PIT BULL DOGS

Two American Pit Bull dogs worth $200 each were stolen from a garage at the home of Don Bergensen, 2223 Washington Ave., he reported at late last week. One of the animals was all white and the other was white with a black marking on one eye and ear, he said.

Nobody took school cash, goods

There obviously are going to be people who vote "no" in the Nov. 6 school election, as they have a right to do, but we hope they do some soul-searching about it. They should not invent or use a false reason for their eventual negative, or positive, decision.

Some taxpayers say they are voting no because a lot of money or goods must have been lost or stolen in order for the schools to get into such bad financial shape. This kind of rationalization ought to be avoided because it isn't true.

There is the contention that a big industrial motor given to the school system was later spirited away in the night, at a loss of thousands of dollars. It isn't so. Anybody with knowledge of such a theft ought to come forward and we'll gladly publicize it before the election.

There is the allegation that somebody must have "gone south" with a big bundle of taxpayers' hard-earned dollars. This is ridiculous and ought to be verified immediately or discarded from voters' thoughts. It didn't happen.

Nearly all school money goes for personnel, plus lesser amounts for buildings and supplies. How could it be otherwise in an entity that, by its nature, involves many employees? Technically speaking, education is a labor-intensive endeavor—people teaching people.

The school district was locked into rising pay costs at the same time Illinois and Uncle Sam began pulling the school aid "rug" from under its feet. The timing was unfortunate, and the fall was painful. But there was nothing crooked about it, unless you want to blame some agencies for promising one thing and delivering much less.

Savings could have been achieved by earlier shut-downs of buildings, but the public gets so angry at the school officials who give such orders that some delay was understandable if not justifiable. There was at least some logic in not rushing to padlock schools; the schools would not have been placed in various neighborhoods unless needed at the time. The neighborhood concept is still valid today, although unaffordable.

If skulduggery is the reason schools are short of money, an allegation which makes no sense, then thievery has broken out throughout Illinois this fall. The local area is not alone in needing to provide more school money; the topic is on many ballots.

It may be tempting to say, "We must have been stolen blind, or we wouldn't be out of funds." But voters ought to resist the temptation because it just didn't happen.

New college an inspiration

The Red Bud Center of Belleville Area College is an inspiration to community development promoters elsewhere. The million-dollar center was built on $5,000 gifts from more than 80 Red Bud citizens, $250,000 of sewers, lighting and parking facilities provided by the city of Red Bud, and a $400,000 loan from the city to be paid back in rent by the college over 12 years. The high school district provided the 16-acre site.

The college is aiming to serve 1,500 students from the southern part of the district. It will include classrooms and a data processing teaching facility.

It must encourage the people who are trying to pass a school tax referendum here to see hard-headed folks in Red Bud spending their hard-earned money to get an educational facility. They recognize that education is the basic building block on which development and progress depend.

From the Collinsville Herald

Tuition tax credits would improve schools

To the Editor:

Many low- and middle-income families send their children to private and parochial schools at considerable personal sacrifice.

In 1982, 41 percent of private school students were from families with incomes of less than $25,000; 66 percent had family incomes below $35,000.

These families fund public schools with their taxes and pay again, through tuition, for the education they choose for their children.

President Reagan supports tuition tax credits as a matter of equity. His proposal would give full credit only to parents with taxable incomes of $40,000 or less. There would be no credit at all when income exceeded $60,000.

Tuition tax credits are a way to return excellence to our schools.

They promote educational choice among disadvantaged families and make all schools better by encouraging competition, greater parental choice and stronger local control of our school.

Much constructive activity by Sen. Percy

To the Editor:

Charles Percy seems to be fighting hard again to maintain his seat in the U.S. Senate. He has been disparaged by liberals for being too conservative, while right wingers reprove him for being too liberal.

It is one of the difficulties of being an independent minded Republican today. His accomplishments for the state are copious, but it seems that voters have forgotten how effective a leader he has been.

Sen. Percy was the founder of the New Illinois Committee which initiated new projects in education, community development, job opportunities and research and development for aging industries.

He is a founder of the Senate Steel Caucus, fighting to halt the dumping of subsidized foreign steel while realizing the importance of free trade.

Chuck was one of the most vociferous opponents of the Carter grain embargo and worked with Reagan administration to lift it. His negotiations allowed our farmers to export almost $600 million worth of agricultural goods last year alone.

The Percy Debt Collection Act

clamps down on those who have never repaid their government loans.

The senator was one of the major proponents of the meat and wool program for the elderly.

Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and the Subcommittee on Energy and Nuclear Proliferation, as well as a member of the special Committee on Aging,

Schools are worth their cost

To the Editor:

In response to a letter recently published concerning our school bond and its affiliated issues, the gentleman in question refers to a shirt pocket. Sir, I don't know where you purchase your shirts. But, there is an old adage, "You get what you pay for."

In past years we people in Granite City prided ourselves on a splendid school system. Then we began to vote down our bond issues.

Now our schools are in shameful disrepair, our classrooms are overcrowded, and extra curricular programs are nonexistent, all for the sake of not raising taxes to meet obligations.

I admit I found some sub-standard teachers, but on the whole the quality of education was good.

Another loss would be the counseling of extracurricular activities. This, in my mind, would be a crucial blow and lead to the demise of public education in Granite City.

We are blessed with some of the finest athletes and athletic teams in Illinois.

The loss would not only hurt athletics, but also band, speech, theater and other events. It would also mean the loss of possible scholarships in some cases.

Most voters do not understand what it would be like, because most had the opportunity to participate.

Not only would the failure possibly result in these examples, but the student could also lose pride in himself and his school.

Finally, a subject many students do not want to face — the possibility of being bused to other school communities.

Not being able to participate in school sports, plays or other activities could hurt the student more than voters realize.

Most parents would not put a monetary value on their child's life, and quality education has a direct relation to the student's future life and how he will do.

I am voting "yes," and hope that others will, too, before the school system turns into somewhat of a "12-year prison term" rather than an academic term.

Many reasons to vote 'Yes' on schools

To the Editor:

I am writing on the problems our school system is presently facing.

As a former student of the Granite City system, I am sympathetic toward the students' cause in helping the Nov. 6 school proposals pass.

I think that voters do not understand the consequences if the issue fails.

The loss of more teachers, some of high-quality teaching standards, could be a result.

One gripe that some voters have is that the quality of education is low. If this is the case, would failure of the bond issue be a defeat in gaining quality education?

I attended 12 years in the Granite City district and have come to realize that "You get out only what you put in."

Girl Scout cookies

Granite Cityans were asked if they think the Girl Scouts should find an alternate method of raising money, in light of the cookie tamperings of a year ago. Their reactions follow:

Amy Gonterman, Granite City

"No, I think the Girl Scouts should stay with the cookie sales. I used to be a Brownie and a Girl Scout and I know how important it was to our troop to sell the cookies. Without that money, our group would have been unable to do any activities."

Nancy Somers, Granite City

"Yes, I think the Girl Scouts should find an alternate method of raising money, but not because of the tamperings. I think the soliciting of cookies door-to-door is more of a safety risk than anything. A lot of parents don't let their children do that anymore."

Ornetta Gilliam, a Granite City worker

"I think the Scouts need to find a fund-raising method that is going to make them some real money. They don't make enough from the cookie sales. And this whole tampering thing has not helped the sales—it doesn't seem like there's anything anybody can sell these days without someone tampering with it."

Ruth Zucker, a Granite City business owner

"I think the Girl Scouts should find another method because I'm afraid to buy the cookies. I'd rather buy something different from the girls. If they're going to continue the cookie sales, they should develop a tamper-proof package."

Graduate recalls GCHS fun and learning

To the Editor:

To begin my comment concerning the passage of the Granite City school tax proposals Nov. 6, I would like to cite a few of the several reasons Granite City High School deserves your extra tax dollars.

High school provides youths with preparation for college, and also for their fondest memories of the past.

Being a student at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, I am faced with a very difficult and challenging curriculum.

While I was a student at Granite City High, I was enrolled in many accelerated courses, including poor air quality, public school problems, chemistry, history and English.

Witnessing my peers struggling with concepts taught to me in a sophomore accelerated class, I realize how fortunate I am to have attended such a fine prep school.

Would I have had such a command of the basics while enrolled in an average paced class? I think not.

The advanced classes I took prepared me extremely well for the material I am now studying at the U. of I.

Most students from the so-called "superior schools of the north" are far less prepared than I am, which is a direct result of the accelerated classes.

Being one of 40,000 students at this institution, I am frequently confronted with loneliness. For me, the best way to alleviate this problem is to recall all the memories I have from Granite City High.

Athletics in our community with my fondest memories from high school. They are something no one, no matter who they are, can take away from homes.

Athletics isn't the only source of memories, however. Band, swing choir, pom-poms, theater and countless other school-sponsored groups provide a wealth of pleasure in one's future life.

If you reflect upon your high school days, what do you remember? The times spent sitting in class? The very thing in the band, science club, the homecoming play, or whatever else you were interested in.

The experiences you gained and the fun you had are the important and rewarding things.

I have tried to present some of the major things Granite City High School has done for me.

If the school proposals do not pass, these programs will be jeopardized, and very possibly eliminated.

I hope my letter has made people realize how important these things are to me and the future graduates of GCHS.

Positive outlook for homeowners in GC

To the Editor:

Property owners in Granite City have had many negative feelings with which to deal in the past few years: Media impact on our community as being depressed, water problems, poor air quality, public school problems... not a pretty picture.

I wish you could have been with me this past week (early October). I am a property owner and a teacher and I was visiting as many homes as I could in order to improve communications with our citizens in regard to school problems.

This is what I discovered. First, in personal contact, I found a wonderful cross-cut of middle-class people who are very friendly, and more important, were the extremely well-kept homes. I've visited several hundred homes and found their lawns well maintained, their paint decor well maintained, nice backyard improvements (patios, pool, etc.).

Some of the homes were large and expensive; some were small, moderate homes. But all of them were in evidence of great pride in ownership.

On foot, walking through neighborhoods, you see so much more than when driving rapidly through an area.

We all admit that an industrial community cannot present an image of being "beautiful"; we know that we have some very poor maintained property, as most communities do.

We know that we have quite a task changing our community's image. I got an uplifting opinion of the property in Granite City when I gave it a fair evaluation — that being there are far more moderate homes (well kept), middle-class homes (very nice) and fine homes (outstanding) than there were homes at the other end of the spectrum.

This was encouraging and this community must emphasize improving more of those lower spectrum homes.

Let's get out and sell the positive factors. Our industrial picture is looking brighter in the near future. New homes are being built in every desirable area.

Now, it is up to the citizens, whether you have children in school or not, to become very involved in getting our schools in good order.

If we can't offer environmental advantages that will attract new families into our community, we can't attract them with a strong school system.

In no uncertain terms, parents are looking for districts which bare for the children's safety, with strong disciplinary policies, achievement in fundamental skills, an atmosphere conducive to learning, and competent teachers and administrators to do the job.

Schools of this nature will attract families of the type which will not only help Granite City survive — they will be the type that will contribute to churches, local organizations, our businesses, our general community health and welfare will improve.

Let's be positive. Let's do it.

PRAISES GC POLICE FOR CURBING SPEED OF BUSES

To the Editor:

I would like to compliment the Granite City Police Department on a fine job they did in the last week on getting Bi-State buses in the 2600 block of State Street to obey the speed limit.

I know we are not the only ones living in Granite City who are complaining about the speed of the buses, but again I want to thank the police for their fine effort.

Pumpkin Patch's popularity grows for the third year

By RACHEL NEWSOME
for the Press-Record

Quickly becoming an annual event, the public continued to respond to Granite City's third consecutive Pumpkin Patch this past weekend.

Junior Achievement companies, Buzco IV, Royal Enterprises II and Woodworkers Unlimited, sponsored by Illinois Bell, collaborated once again to create The Pumpkin Patch. Designed for those youngsters not yet able to embark on an adventure through one of the local haunted houses, The Pumpkin Patch enables the very young children to enjoy Halloween without being afraid.

Snoopy, Papa Smurf, Garfield and Care Bear all well known friends of today's child, are naturally easier to relate to than a grotesque monster dripping blood.

Another major allurements to The Pumpkin Patch was a mechanical talking pumpkin. With looks of amazement, children fired question after question at the pumpkin and he, in turn, attempted to answer each and every one.

Other attractions included a small graveyard, balloons, pictures with a chosen character, games with prizes and treats.

Last, but certainly not least, what would a trip to The Pumpkin Patch be without a pumpkin? Included in the admission price, each child was able to select the pumpkin of his choice before departing.

Ethel Neill, 88, former resident, dies Friday

Miss Ethel Neill, 88, of Longmont, Colo., a former Granite City resident, died Friday, Oct. 26, 1984, at the Wickburg Community Hospital in Wickburg, Ariz.

She was born in West Point, Ill. Miss Neill was employed in the insurance business for many years in both the Peoria and Chicago areas. She retired in 1968.

Among the survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Ada Mae Zinkhof of Granite City and Wickenburg, Ariz., Mrs. Edith Schmeckle of Loveland, Colo., and Mrs. Mildred Higgins of Newport Beach, Calif., and a brother, Arlo Neill of Sun City, Ariz. Graveside services will take place at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31, at the West Point (Ill.) Cemetery. Hamilton Funeral Home of Augusta, Ill., is in charge of arrangements.

Gymnastics for area youngsters

Members of the physical education faculty at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will conduct a fall gymnastics workshop for children between the ages of five and 17.

The workshop will emphasize tumbling and include work on the balance bars and other gymnastic equipment in the gymnastics studio of the SIUE Vadalabene Center. A choice of four-week sessions will be available. Times include:

Wednesday, 5:15 - 6:15 p.m., Nov. 7, 14, 21, 28 or 5:15 - 6:15 p.m., Dec. 5, 12, 19 and Jan. 2.
Saturday, 12:30 - 1:30 p.m., Nov. 3, 10, 17, 24 or Dec. 1, 8, 15, 22.
Saturday, 1:30 - 2:30 p.m., Nov. 3, 10, 17, 24 or Dec. 1, 8, 15, 22.

Fees for the four sessions are $22, which includes a mandatory supplemental insurance program. Interested persons may contact Larry Moehn at 692-2966.

Warning on loan offers to farms

Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan last week notified the attorney general's office that two other firms are offering six percent loans using money from France and Africa.

"It appears that this kind of tempting loan offer is proliferating across Illinois," Hartigan said. "Farmers should be wary of loans offered at ridiculously low rates of interest," he added.

"Many farmers are mortgaged to the hilt because of a depressed agricultural economy. As a result, they are vulnerable to easy-money schemes that may not be legitimate."

DICK ALLEN FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY

ATTENTION VOTERS

FROM EMIL TOFFANT

DICK ALLEN is the Democratic candidate for the office of STATES ATTORNEY of Madison County and I ask that you cast your vote for him on Nov. 6, 1984.

I have known Dick for many years and I know him to be a lawyer of integrity and ability.

He will be tough but fair in the operation of the office and will be a highly competent states attorney.

Please vote for him when you go to the polls on Nov. 6th.

THANK YOU!

Ban on leaded gasoline opposed

By ED GURNEY

Mary Ambuehl believes that if Illinois establishes a ban on leaded gasoline, many of her customers at the 4-0 Quick Shop in Troy will buy gasoline in Missouri.

"It's going to hurt my job as well as my employees," she said. "If they take this gas away from me it will not only lose sales, we will have to lay someone off."

SHE WAS one of the people who testified last week at a hearing in Collinsville on the use of leaded gasoline. The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is holding a total of seven such hearings in Illinois this month.

Daniel Goodwin of the EPA, who chaired the meeting, stressed that there has been no recommendation to ban leaded gasoline.

Gov. James Thompson asked the EPA to gather information on how dangerous the use of leaded gasoline is and how the state can cut down on its use.

HOWEVER, A spokesman for the EPA noted that four Chicago area legislators have announced plans to introduce bills banning leaded gas because the substance is suspected of causing health problems, especially in children.

Only one person—George Arnold of Edwardsville, retired associate professor of environmental studies at SIUE—testified in favor of a ban.

Arnold said he wished some of the mothers of children made retarded because of leaded gas were at the hearing to testify.

He said evidence has proved lead from auto exhaust is harmful, especially in cities. Lead accumulates in the system, he said.

"NO DOUBT exists in my mind that our supertechnology can compensate for the deficiency (in gasoline) related to the elimination of lead," Arnold said.

He said leaded fuel used to be more expensive than unleaded. "The cost of fuel has little relevance to the absence or presence of lead," he said.

Many of those testifying agreed with Mary Ambuehl that a ban only in Illinois would cause even more metro-east motorists to purchase gasoline in Missouri.

GARY DUCKWORTH of Collinsville said, "I for one would find it necessary to go across the river to buy gas."

He said he purchases at least 180 gallons every two weeks for his one-ton truck before leaving on trips to South Carolina, Louisiana, and Texas. The tank on his truck holds 165 gallons.

Stanley Black of the EPA, who helped conduct the hearing, told Duckworth he was surprised he didn't go to Missouri even now because of cheaper prices due to a lower tax on gasoline.

JAMES SPARKS of Route 3 was another who testified against a ban. He showed EPA representatives a piston that he said was damaged by hot-burning unleaded gasoline. The engine will require a complete renovation, he said.

"Basically, I don't have much confidence in the EPA's track record," Sparks said. "I'm not sure you'll come up with an answer we need on this matter."

Sparks said catalytic converters are used on many newer cars that burn unleaded gasoline. "I'm not convinced the acid coming from these engines is not more harmful (than lead)," he said.

SPARKS SAID he was at the hearing representing the "little guy." "It seems like he pays and he pays and he pays. There's no end to it," he said.

Jack Palmer of J and J Speed Shop in Granite City said he does a considerable amount of work on engines of cars made in 1980 or after that were damaged by problems related to unleaded gasoline.

He said he would be willing to pay more for a gasoline additive, but said it would be better to have an additive blended by the refinery rather than one added by the consumer.

TOM DICKERSON of Belleville, president of Dickerson Petroleum Inc., said his firm services 40 commercial accounts in which 85 percent of sales are leaded gasoline.

At the 42 retail outlets his firm services, 38 percent of the sales are leaded gasoline, he said.

John Ellis of Belleville, president of the Southwest Illinois Oilmen's Association, said dealers feel a great economic hardship now because of the 11-cent-per-gallon difference in taxes between Illinois and Missouri.

"ILLINOIS PRICES would be at least 15 cents higher than in Missouri across the bridge," said Ellis, noting that the difference in prices between leaded and unleaded gasoline is usually four to five cents a gallon.

He said his association isn't opposed to a nationwide ban, but to be the only state to have a ban "would be disastrous and hazardous."

Others speaking against a ban included Joseph Tatham of Cahokia, a representative of the St. Louis Gateway Chapter of the Buick Club, which has 60 members who own older cars; David Westcott of rural Mascoutah, a representative of the United Motorcyclists of Illinois; Ray Thomeczek of Plaza Motor Fuels of Alton and president-elect of the Southwest Illinois Oilmen's Association; and Dale Wade, owner of the Clinton County Oil Co. in Breese.

MARCH OF DIMES drive in the Quad-City area is underway with a telephone campaign to enlist volunteers for the Mothers March Against Birth Defects. The telephone campaign is underway by members of the Retired Seniors Volunteer Program (RSVP) and the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP). From the left are Marge Hall, Ann Miller, Helen Urban and Ann Palsgrove, all of RSVP. Also helping was Elizabeth Mullen, March of Dimes coordinator of community services. Telephoning continues for two weeks each evening from American Steel Foundries and will move to Madison County Federal Savings and Loan for another week. The Mothers' March begins the week of Jan. 27. Volunteers also may call 1-692-0888 to sign up. (Press-Record Photo by Gary Schneider)

Pontoon planning committee named

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

The Pontoon Beach Village Board last week named 16 residents to a new master plan committee. The committee members were recommended for approval by Village Board President Glen Wilson, who was absent from the meeting.

Named to the committee were Wilson, Kelly Arnold, Ralph Craycraft, George Goodwin, Rowena Leonard, Virginia Biggs, Jerry Harrington, Charles Luchmann, Gaye Flood, Lee and Betty Ridgeway, Carol Millard, Bill Morgan, Board Members Louis Whitell and Keith Biggs, and Village Clerk Mary Warren.

LAST MONTH, the board members passed a resolution to establish a committee to devise the master plan.

Although the village currently has a zoning ordinance, the plan will allow it to designate certain areas for residences and certain areas for businesses. In addition, the village will be able to annex property.

Board Member Don Rea told the board he already has received some annexation requests.

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP trustees, he said, have indicated they would like the village to annex the township hall and adjoining township buildings. But the trustees would like the township to be exempted from paying the village's police tax on utilities.

Rea suggested that the village board consider excluding all taxing entities from the police tax.

If the board took such an action, only the township and the Long Lake fire district would qualify for exemptions from the village tax, he said.

"I SUGGEST the board entertain the idea until they can bring it up formally...perhaps at the next meeting," Rea said.

Board Member Loren Madison commented, "I don't think we'll have any problem abating the tax for an entity."

Member Robert Vincent reminded the board that the village owes Nameoki Township $25,000 in community development funds, which the township loaned to the village last year for construction of its senior citizens center.

REA SAID the township needs the money back so it can continue paving roads. "They've reached a certain point where they're running out of money. They were kind enough to let us have the $25,000 that they had earmarked for their projects," he added.

Clerk Mary Warren said she would contact the Madison County Community Development office to determine how much money the village has in development funds.

In other business, the board discussed what was described as "continuous dumping of trash in the old lagoon."

THE LAGOON is located on property behind the Quiet Valley subdivision. It was related. The lagoon once served the subdivision for wastewater treatment until homes in that area were connected to the county sanitary sewer system.

Rea said a company is using the lagoon as a landfill. "They're soliciting dumping of any and all kinds of waste...shingles, old refrigerators, stoves and other debris," he asserted. "We've had numerous complaints. I tried to contact the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, but this is the responsibility of the village."

"All that's required of our board is to instruct our lawyer to act to enjoin them from dumping anymore refuse in there whatsoever," he said. The IEPA would assist the village in evaluating what is in the dump and whether it should be there. He alleged the site has led to a rat problem.

IT WAS DECIDED to instruct village attorney Robert Hennessey to pursue the issue.

In an unopposed decision, the Pontoon Beach board approved a business license for Carol L. Canady, who wants to open a book and gift shop at 4025 Pontoon Road.

WARRANT IS SERVED Robert D. Niemeyer, 26, of 169 Briarwood Lane, was brought into Granite City police headquarters last week by an Illinois State Police trooper in response to a local warrant alleging failure to pay a fine on a resisting arrest charge. He was freed upon posting a $102 cash bond.

Q. With all the current talk about "bracket creep" I realized that I've never known, nor paid much attention to where I fit in the tax bracket. How does one go about finding out this information?

A. It's been said everyone who pays taxes is in partnership with the government. A good businessman would never enter a partnership without knowing what the split is, which is why it's good practice to know your income tax bracket — the government's split. An easy way of finding out is to pull out your tax return from last year. Now, assume that everything on the form is the same, with the exception of your income — and that is $100 more than you earned last year. Now figure how much more tax — Federal, state, if any, and social security you would have to pay with the additional $100. If, for example, the answer is $34, you are in the 34 percent tax bracket. Keep in mind that since income taxes are graduated, its the last few hundreds that really take a tax beating, and which count in most financial decisions.

Realtors favor 'Yes' on schools

The Granite City Board of Realtors at its October membership meeting voted unanimously to endorse the Granite City School District's bond issue and referendum to be submitted to voters on Nov. 6.

John Blasingame, president of the Board of Realtors, said members of the Realty Board "readily recognize that, without a sound educational system, property values in the local area will suffer greatly."

"The increase, which amounts to approximately $8 per month for the average home in Granite City, is small compared to what may happen to the value of homes in the area without the requested funds," he said.

Alleged shoplifter booked for assault

After a K-Mart employee alleged seeing a youth try on a pair of new tennis shoes, place his old shoes in a box and hide it as he walked around the store, the employee attempted to stop the youth outside the store, police were told at 4 p.m. Thursday.

The youth allegedly pulled out a knife, saying, "Leave me alone," and fled toward the Nameoki Village Shopping Center, pursued on foot by store employees.

George Henry Narup Jr., 17, of 4509 Kirkpatrick Homes was being held against a cyclone fence in the 3300 block of Fehling Road by a store employee when officers arrived.

At police headquarters, five hand-drolled cannabis cigarettes alleged to be found in Narup's pocket.

He was booked on charges of aggravated assault, possession of cannabis and a retail theft.

Agency seeking foster families

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services needs families in the Granite City and Collinsville areas to help children who need homes. The agency is searching for families to act as emergency receiving homes for children requiring immediate placement outside their own homes.

According to Jane Heathcote, resource development worker in the department's Granite City field office, emergency foster parents care for children on a short-term basis until longer-term foster homes are found or until the children can return home.

Although most placements occur during the day, emergency foster parents accept children on a 24-hour basis. Emergency foster parents cope with a constant turnover of children and may care for up to 80 youngsters in one year, she said.

The department pays emergency foster parents a $100 per month retainer fee for each approved available bed space. The fee is paid even if no children are placed in the home. In addition, the foster family receives a monthly boarding fee ranging from $210 to $256 per child.

Miss Heathcote added that the department pays for all medical, dental and pharmaceutical services for a child in foster care.

Further information about the program is available by contacting the field office, 1506 Johnson Road, at 876-8985.

BOTTLE BREAKS WINDOW

A vandal threw a beer bottle through a front plate glass window at Realty Systems, 3657 Nameoki Road, it was reported last week.

Council for Gifted backs school 'Yes'

At its first meeting of the 1984-1985 school year, the Granite City Council for the Gifted voted unanimously to endorse the upcoming Community Unit School District Nine bond issue and rate increase.

John Mefford, president, said, "The issues at hand are vital to our entire community, whether or not you have children attending the schools."

"We urge each registered voter to take the time and make an effort to listen to the accurate facts."

"Citizens as well as board members and administrators are speaking nightly so that each of us might have an opportunity to be better informed."

Mefford concluded, "Do your part on Nov. 6 to put our district on a sound financial footing. Vote YES."

Veterans to get annual income questionnaire

Nearly two million Veterans Administration pensioners will receive the agency's annual income questionnaire around Nov. 1 to determine their future eligibility for the VA needs-based program.

The questionnaire, required by law, must be completed and returned to the VA by Jan. 1, 1985. Pensioners who do not return the questionnaire may have their monthly checks stopped, the VA said.

The questionnaire will go to all persons receiving VA pension payments or Parents' Dependency and Indemnity Compensation benefits.

Pensioners will receive a worksheet to assist in completing the form, and which may also be used as a record of the information they report.

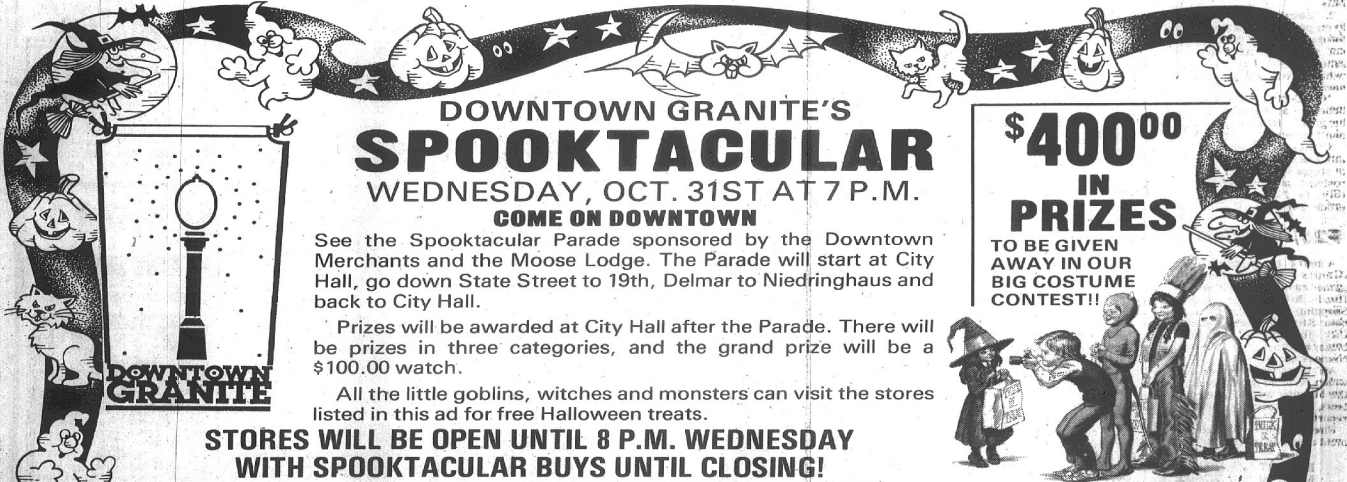

Help in completing the annual questionnaire is available from any VA regional office or from major veterans organizations.

Pensioners are paid to wartime veterans with limited income who are permanently and totally disabled from reasons not traceable to service. At present, more than 700,000 veterans receive pension benefits from the VA.

ARRESTED FOR DAMAGE

John M. Overturn, 30, of 4908 Kirkpatrick Homes was charged with damage to property when arrested at home at 9:10 p.m. Thursday. His former wife, Mary Overturn, 106 Kirkpatrick, said he came to her apartment and made threats, threw a shoe and ashtray, swept items on the kitchen table to the floor, broke a lamp and tore down curtains.

Matthew Chenevert

Matthew Stephen Chenevert, 15, of 3004 Willow Ave., a lifelong resident, died at 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 28, 1984, at Cardinal Glennon Hospital in St. Louis, of injuries sustained in an accident at 7 p.m. Saturday.

A story appears on today's front page.

A sophomore at Granite City High School, Mr. Chenevert was a member of the Gaming Club and Lettermen's Club at the high school. He also served as a manager of the varsity soccer team for 1½ years and was a manager of GCHS's 1983 state championship soccer team.

Mr. Chenevert was an organ donor.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry B. (Fay Vincent) Chenevert; a brother, Christopher Theron Chenevert, a senior at Granite City High School, and a sister, Mrs. Wayne (Renee) Myers, all of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave., telephone 877-6500. The family requests memorials to Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis.

Everett Dunnivant

Everett L. Dunnivant, 64, of Madison, died at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 28, 1984, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Born in Peoria, Ill., Mr. Dunnivant lived in this area 57 years. His last place of employment was for Seebold Construction Co., where he worked as a truck driver until he retired. He was of the Protestant faith.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Marie L. (Ballentine) Dunnivant; seven sons, David, Dunnivant, a Hawaii; Larry Dunnivant of Cahokia; Ronald Dunnivant of Granite City and Michael, Harold, Steven and Dennis Dunnivant, all of Madison; two daughters, Mrs. Stewart (Ruth Ann) Strong of St. Louis and Miss Barbara Dunnivant of Madison; his mother, Mrs. Helen Patterson of Peoria, Ill.; three brothers, Richard Dunnivant of Glen Carbon and Eugene and Ronald Dunnivant, both of Madison, and 13 grandchildren.

Visitation will begin at 4 p.m. Tuesday at Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 301 Madison Ave., Madison, where funeral services are pending. The telephone number for arrangements is 876-2222.

Frank Harris

Frank G. Harris, 52, of 2205 E. 25th St., a lifelong resident of Granite City, became ill at home Sunday morning and called an ambulance to take him to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead upon arrival at 7 a.m., Oct. 28, 1984. It is believed he died of an apparent heart attack.

Mr. Harris was acting superintendent of the hot roll finishing department at Granite City Steel, where he worked for many years. He also was a Granite City police officer for about 10 years and ran unsuccessfully for sheriff of Madison County at one time.

A member of Masonic Triple Lodge 835 AF&M, Mr. Harris also held membership in the Elks' Lodge 1065. He served with the U.S. Navy during the Korean Conflict. He was of the Protestant faith.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Janet Harris; three sons, Greg, Mark and Timothy Harris, all of Granite City; three brothers, Robert Harris, Granite City, David Harris, El Toro, Calif., and Louis Volmer of Bloomfield, Mich.; one sister, Mrs.

George (Grace) Hitchcock, St. Louis, and six grandchildren.

Madison students learn intaglio art techniques

The Madison Middle and High schools last week had a visiting artist, Don Purkay, from the Madison County Art Council Series showing students works of intaglio art and demonstrating intaglio techniques.

Purkay, a painter in 1980 creating nature scenes, children at play, flower arrangements, animals and other scenes in crystal clear lucite by carving with a variety of burrs in a small, high speed drill.

Purkay creates works of intaglio art in both regular and irregular shaped blocks of acrylic. His intricate work is enhanced by the reflective and refractive qualities of the material. Each piece is an original creation done without pattern from the back of the material, in reverse.

The carving is three dimensional, embedded permanently in the material and yet giving, in many cases, an illusion of movement to the subject.

Purkay has participated in arts and crafts shows in the states.

Museum dedication on Sunday, Nov. 4

Dedication of the Old Six Mile Historical Museum is set for 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 4, at the former Zippel residence, 3279 Maryville Road at Stratford Lane and Emert Avenue.

Randall Robertson, a Granite City attorney, will be the guest speaker at the grand opening. A reception will follow the dedication.

Persons interested in attending the event may park at Parkview Elementary School or Bethel Evangelical Free Church.

GC board to review construction permits

The Granite City Board of Appeals will review two petitions for construction permits at a meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 1:15 p.m. in the Mayor's Conference Room, City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave.

The first petition reviewed will be that of Lewis Zenzoff Sr., 2408 Cardinal Ave., for construction of a 13x27-foot carport, to be built one foot from the side property line.

The second request is from Laveada Knobbe, 2 Frontenac Lane, asking permission to construct a 14x30-foot attached garage, to be built within 17 inches of the side property line.

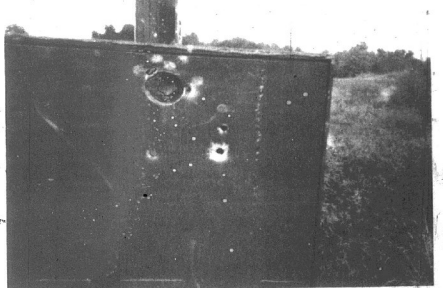

All decisions by the Board of Appeals are subject to City Council approval.

TARGET OF VANDALS. A unit that controls the flood control gate for Horseshoe Lake was hit by gunfire last week. M&S officials believe vandals used illegal, armor-piercing bullets to penetrate the stainless-steel unit.

Vandals damage gate control

Metro-East Sanitary District Director Walter "Shang" Greathouse says last week's damage to flood gate control equipment is just another example of the vandalism almost constantly inflicted on levee district equipment.

Greathouse told M&S board members Thursday that someone used a .30 caliber rifle loaded with armor-piercing bullets, firing at a stainless-steel unit that controls the floodgate at Highway 111 and the Cahokia Canal.

"My contention is that it isn't some vandal, it's somebody who doesn't want the lake level lowered," he commented. The flood control gate regulates the level of Horseshoe Lake.

"There are some people who want me to keep the lake high for duck hunting and fishing," he continued. "Other people want me to keep the lake low to plant millet (and as a safety factor in the event of a sudden heavy rain). For years, people have played with it (the flood gate)."

Cook files for CUB board

George Cook Jr., community services director of the Tri-Cities Area United Way is among the candidates for 22 seats on the board of directors of the Citizens Utility Board. Fifty-three candidates filed nominating petitions and supporting documents in CUB's Chicago office by the deadline.

Voting for the board seats will begin Dec. 8, when members of the utility watchdog organization receive their ballots by mail. One member will be elected from each of the state's 22 Congressional Districts. Final deadline for balloting is Dec. 22, when all votes must be received by CUB election officials.

CUB Elections Chairman Edna Summers said she was encouraged by the large number of CUB candidates. "CUB has been very successful in recruiting members and sparking interest among Illinois consumers thus far. A well-contested election which gives CUB members the opportunity to choose among qualified candidates will result in a dynamic board of directors," she said.

Edna Summers serves with 10 others on CUB's interim board, appointed earlier this year by Springfield officials to oversee operations through the end of 1984.

Candidate materials will now be turned over to CUB's certification committee, which will review the documents for completeness and accuracy. The committee will also be conducting a random test to determine the validity of signatures appearing on candidate petitions. The certification will be completed on Nov. 11.

Candidates certified by the Elections Committee will be provided a list of the names of CUB members in their district. Only CUB members may vote in the board elections, provided their minimum $5 dues have been received by CUB by the Nov. 26 cutoff.

An independent audit team, supervised by the Chicago-based CPAs for the Public Interest, has developed the election guidelines and is monitoring each phase of the election process in conjunction with the CUB Elections Committee.

CUB will be lending its assistance to independent organizations wishing to sponsor candidate forums, debates or other sessions designed to inform CUB members about the background of the positions of the candidates seeking election in their districts. Those seeking to sponsor such meetings may contact the CUB office at 1-312-922-1241.

CUB candidates will be held to a $2,500 spending limit in their campaigns. No compensation is provided for CUB directors.

District 21 candidates, besides Cook, are Ray G. Hommann of Fairview Heights, a teacher at O'Fallon Township High School and Jacob C. Johnson of East St. Louis, a carpenter.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

When a couple with children decides to get a divorce, one of the most important decisions is the amount of child support to be paid by the non-custodial parent. Until recently, the husband and wife could agree between themselves on any amount subject to approval by the Court. If they could not agree on an amount, the Judge would decide based on the relative income of the parties, the needs of the children, the lifestyle to which the children had become accustomed, and various other factors.

Recently the Illinois legislature enacted new legislation which requires the paying parent to pay a certain percentage of his net income. If the Court enters an order for child support, the minimum to be paid is 20 percent of net income for one child. The legislation also provides a minimum of 25 percent for two children, 32 percent for three children, and 40 percent for four children.

Obviously an important question becomes what is net income under this new law. The legislature has taken a very narrow view of this term. Net income is defined as total gross income minus federal and state taxes, FICA, mandatory pension deductions, union dues, dependent health coverage, and individual health coverage. Notice that there is no consideration given to the paying spouse for debts owed to private creditors.

In the past the Court has had a great amount of discretion in determining what constitutes the paying parent's net income and the percentage of net income to be paid. Now these minimum percentages and methods of calculation are binding upon the Court. It should be noted that the Judge is free to order an amount of child support above the minimums but cannot order less than the minimums unless specific findings are made as to why this was done. This new law has left unanswered such questions as whether or not the parents could agree to an amount of support below the minimum or agree to no support at all.

In conclusion, let's assume a couple with two children divorce, and the wife receives custody. The husband nets $2,000 per month. The Court, in this case, would be required to order a child support payment of $500 per month. It would not help the husband's case if he had, for example, a $500 per month rent payment and $300 per month car payment. Private creditor payments are not considered when determining net income.

In Soccer Sectional Warriors oust Kahoks; vie Alton for title Meet Redbirds Tuesday

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY The Granite City High soccer Warriors, scoring a goal in the first five minutes, survived two superb opportunities and defeated rival Collinsville, 1-0, in the first round of the Sectional tournament Saturday night.

The match, played at the Gauntlet before a packed crowd of mostly red and purple clad Granite City and Collinsville supporters, sends the Warriors into the GCHS Sectional championship contest Tuesday night. The Warriors will play the Alton Redbirds, who defeated Belleville West in their semi-final tilt Saturday, 1-0.

THE MATCH to determine whether the Warriors will continue toward an unprecedented seventh state title is not expected to be a cakewalk.

Said Warrior keeper Job Blasingame, who played flawlessly against the Kahoks, "I think Alton is tougher than Collinsville."

The Warriors are still breathing on the tournament trail thanks, in large part, to two of their smallest yet, in the case of Brent Cook, mightiest players.

THE SCORE

THE WARRIORS tallied three minutes and fifty-five seconds into the match when Cook, who stands 5-6, and weighs a mere 125 pounds, connected on a gargantuan throw-in to 5-7 Scott Grote, who headed the ball into the net.

Cook, who beefs up his arm strength by working out with a medicine ball, is known for the great distance he achieves on his throw-ins. He launched this one into the goal mouth area, despite a stiff wind blowing against him.

THE KAHOK SCARE

THE WARRIORS' lead was tested most severely in the second quarter when the Kahoks engineered two breakaways on the Granite City goal. On the first break, the Kahoks' Doug Smith pounded a shot over the top of the crossbar from near point-blank range.

The Warriors dodged another bullet shortly later when the Kahoks' Tony Ellis, seemingly taking advantage of the Warriors' strategy to draw Collinsville off-sides, used his speed to break clear. Ellis shot smacked against the crossbar. Ellis managed another shot off the rebound, but Blasingame stopped it.

The match maintained its suspense until the final few seconds. Smith lined up for a corner kick with the clock showing 17 ticks left. He blistered a low line drive toward the Warrior goal. Blasingame, though losing track of the ball's flight for a split second, picked the shot off cleanly, and cradled it against his chest as time ran out.

"Yeah, but it was scary," he said.

THE RIVALRY

THE FEUD between the six-time state champions and the team in downtate Illinois that has achieved the most success against it was not defused any Saturday.

The rivalry, hardened over the years by a series of disputes between the team's two coaches, Granite City's Gene Baker, and Collinsville's Jim Stranz, was kept at a simmering boil.

Baker and Stranz clashed before the match began.

The focus of their dispute centered on which bench the teams would use. Stranz, pointing out that the Kahoks were the designated "home team," requested that his team be allowed to sit on the bench closest to the scorer's table and clock, the bench the Warriors have occupied for all their home matches this season.

The Kahoks went so far as to place their jackets on the bench.

THE KAHOKS, however, were allowed to warm up on the end of the field the Warriors normally use for their pre-match workouts.

The bickering continued, once the match was underway. Baker and Stranz exchanged verbal blows over Stranz' complaint to the scorer over the manner in which the scorer whistled a Kahok substitution into the match.

At one point during the match, referee Harold Hagar requested that Stranz sit on his bench. Stranz had been complaining about calls. Stranz said he would sit on the bench if Hagar would ask Baker to sit on the bench. Hagar did. For awhile, both Stranz and Baker watched the proceedings from a sitting position.

STRANZ also complained that, from his position on the bench, he was unable to see the clock. Baker, accommodating Stranz and himself, ordered a Warrior flag removed to a point that it was no longer in neither Stranz' or his line of view of the clock.

The Kahoks and Warriors are rivals, yes. But is their rivalry a healthy one?

Said Warrior Captain Mike Houston, "Yes, I'd say it is a healthy rivalry."

Houston added, however, "It's not a friendly rivalry. But I would say it is competitive."

The Warriors' victory was their second this season over the Kahoks. The two teams tied on another occasion.

For the Kahoks, they ended their season with a record of 12-5-3.

The Warriors, in turn, improved their season mark to 13-4-3.

STATISTICS, the two matched evenly. The Kahoks managed seven shots on goal, three more than the Warriors. Kahok netminder Bob Range was called on to make four saves. The Warriors' Blasingame accomplished seven saves. Granite City out-fouled Collinsville, 24-16.

Each team forced three corner kicks.

THE CELEBRATION

MIDFIELD ACTION. Granite City High School's Todd Adamitis (7) and Mike Houston (partially hidden) were two unidentified Edwardsville players for a head ball during Thursday's GCHS Regional championship game at the Gauntlet, a Cook, the red stains wiped away from a nose that had been bloodied during the match, allowed that his throw in that triggered the match's only goal was one of the longest he's ever performed.

Amidst music and happy cries that filled the Warrior lockerroom, Houston pointed out that Cook has reminded his teammates, on occasion, that he would like for one of them to score on one of his throw-ins.

"ALL YEAR he's been wanting to get an assist. He finally got one," said Houston.

Cook confirmed that he has asked his teammates to score off one of his throw-ins. "But only jokingly," he said with a smile.

It was a time for joshing. And Houston joshed Grote about his goal. "Grote got scared," Houston teased. "He closed his eyes (when he headed it in)."

On the contrary, said Grote, who has come on strong lately in a scoring role. "I was at the right place at the right time. Brent threw it right where he was supposed to. On my head."

GROTE pointed out that he had been left virtually unmarked when two Kahok defenders, one guarding Todd Adamitis, both moved forward toward Cook's throw in ball. Grote stood his ground.

"When I saw how open I was," Grote said, reliving the excitement of the moment; "my eyes got as big as the ball."

It is never over until it's over, however. That point was driven home on the match's final play, when the Kahoks' Smith drilled a corner kick drive toward the Warrior goal.

"I was blinded for a second," Blasingame said.

However, Blasingame said the wall of defense in front of him split, and then he saw the ball. "It came right at me," he said.

THE AFTERMATH

STRANZ, stepping away into the darkness of the night that was the path which took him to the Kahok bus, dismissed the pre-match controversy.

"That didn't change the game," he said.

Tight-lipped as he continued his walk, Stranz said the Kahoks had prepared for Cook's throw-in losses. He bemoaned the Kahoks' failure to fully exploit the Warriors' strategy in moving up their defenders on game the Warriors won 2-0. Saturday, the Warriors defeated nearby rival Collinsville 1-0 to set the stage for Tuesday's Sectional championship against Alton.

restart plays, a ploy conducive to drawing an offside call.

"God, with our speed," Stranz said.

Then, however, the Kahoks' chance at victory slipped away in the second quarter, when they failed, not once but twice, to score on clean breakaways.

"WE HAD our chances," Stranz said. "We did the things we wanted to do except put the ball into the net."

For Baker, the manner in which the Warriors triumphed can be taken as yet another example of his coaching prowess. The Warriors excel on "restart" plays, a part of the game in which coaching skill plays a huge role.

Also, the Warriors did a better job containing the Kahoks' Ellis. In their two previous meetings, Ellis had notched three goals.

"It was a little different," said Baker of the Warriors' containment strategy.

BAKER opened the door and sent the praise toward another part of the building, where the players were getting dressed. He lauded Joe Gray ("a great game"), Greg Gobble and Dave Baggett for their work on the back line. He complimented Blasingame and Cook and Grote.

He smiled when asked if there might be some significance attached to the number "22" stitched onto the warm-up jersey he wore during the match.

"Perhaps it was a lucky number?" Perhaps it was the number he wore in college, when he played for the St. Louis University Billikens, and was included in the team photo that appeared on the cover of "Sports Illustrated."

Perhaps it was another part of the gamesmanship that has marked Baker's rivalry with Stranz.

"It's the only one (jersey) that fits my heft," he joked.

Perhaps so. On the back of the shirt underneath the jersey was the number "26." No one asked him about that.

On The Gridiron Redbirds blast Warriors, 20-8

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

ALTON — The Alton High Redbirds rolled over Granite City's football Warriors Friday night in Alton 20-8.

Redbird ball carriers broke tackles and ran through the Warrior defense for most of the contest, as they totalled 208 yards of rushing offense. For the game, Alton backs averaged over six yards per carry.

But offense was not Alton's only forte. Defensively, the Redbirds were also dominant. After yielding a mere 12 points to East St. Louis Sr. (the second ranked high school team in the nation) earlier this season, the Alton defense smothered the Warriors' ground game. The Redbirds held Granite City to minus five rushing yards.

"WE HAVE a really good defense," said Alton coach Jack Martin. "I didn't think they (Granite City) could score on us. I knew we could win 3-0 if our defense was playing well."

With 6:17 remaining in the first quarter, a Granite City punt gave Alton the ball at the 50-yard line.

On first down, Redbird fullback, Lemond Embrey, scooted around the right end for nine yards to the Granite City 41. Two plays later Embrey rambled down to the 28, and then carried to the 10 yard line, setting up a first and goal.

But the Alton drive stalled.

EMBREY recovered his own fumble on first down for no gain. The next play Eric Graves hammered Redbird fullback Leo Cox for a four-yard loss, and on third down Alton's quarterback, Tim Watson, while avoiding the Granite City pass rush, stepped out of bounds at the Warrior 22.

An offside penalty on the Warriors moved the ball back down to the Granite City 17 yard line, where Alton's Pat Hoag booted a field goal to give the Redbirds a 3-0 lead.

After another Warrior punt Alton took over at their own 33. On second and nine, Watson threw a strike to split end Doug Brooks, cutting across the center of the field after lining up wide left.

FROM THE Alton 47 yard line, wingback Frank Holliday gave the Redbird offense a short vacation, as he bolted 53 yards on a reverse for a touchdown. Joe Bowen tacked on the extra point, and the Redbirds led 10-0.

The teams exchanged possessions, and the Redbirds owned the ball, second and 10 at the Warrior 38 yard line.

Granite City defensive tackle, Chris Luffman, intercepted a pass from Watson, who was under heavy pressure from the Warrior line. Luffman returned the ball to the Alton 47, but the Warriors would have to hurry if they wanted to score before intermission.

QUARTERBACK Shane Cole went to work with 1:29 left in the half. A quick pass to Graves on the right sideline moved the Warriors to the Alton 29. After an incomplete pass, Don Merz picked up the first down at the Redbird 36 yard line.

With 26 seconds showing on the clock, Cole, from shotgun formation, found Graves behind the Alton secondary for a 36-yard touchdown reception.

An offside penalty on the Redbirds moved the ball half the distance to the goal. So, instead of kicking the extra point, the Warriors went for the two-point conversion.

Halfback Ron Owens followed Merz's blocking into the endzone, and the Alton lead was cut to two, 10-8.

WHEN THE second half began, Chris Moad recovered an Alton fumble at the Warrior 40, and it looked as if Granite City was going to make a run at the Redbirds.

Bu, looks can be deceiving. On second and nine, Cole's pass was picked off at the 50-yard line and returned to the Warrior 31.

Runs by Embrey, Cox, and Dale Brice gave the Redbirds a second and three from the Granite City eight yard line. After an incomplete pass, Watson hit tight end Jeff Herd for another Alton score. Bowen's extra point was good, and the Redbirds led 17-8.

WARRIOR defensive play improved in the fourth quarter, but Alton still managed to put three more points on the board, when Hoag added his second field goal of the game. This time the kick came from 38 yards out, and it gave the Redbirds their 20-8 margin of victory.

Coach Ron Yates was displeased with his team's performance — or lack of it.

"The kids just didn't come to play ball," Yates said. "There was no enthusiasm, no heart, no intensity. It's

Cross Country Lora Wiser wins SIUE reg'l Girls' Team Advances

EDWARDSVILLE — Running wars.

That's the best way to sum up the ongoing battle between Granite City's Lora Wiser and Collinsville's Pam Quarengli.

At the Edwardsville Cross Country Regional Saturday, Wiser picked up her second victory over Quarengli in six attempts this season, but more importantly, the Warrior junior was the first to cross the finish line and, in the process, helped lead the Warrior girls' squad to a second-place finish and a berth into this Saturday's Springfield Sectional.

EAST St. Louis Lincoln won the girls' team title with 20 points, as five of its tallying runners crossed the finish in succession after Wiser — second through sixth. Belleville West was third, O'Fallon was fourth and Collinsville was the fifth girls' squad to qualify for the sectional race this Saturday.

In girls' regional competition, the first five teams advance to the sectional and the top five girls not members of one of those qualifying teams also advance. Virtually the same criteria for advancement is used in boys' competition, only the first four teams advance.

IN BOYS' competition, Lincoln made it a clean sweep as the Tigers finished first with 42 points followed by Belleville West with 81 points. East St. Louis Sr. with 96 and Edwardsville rounded out the top sectional-qualifying finishers with an even 100 points.

The Warriors finished in seventh place overall with 165 points, behind

Physical exams given Monday

Physical examinations for those athletes wishing to participate in winter sports at Granite City High School should attend a physical examination session at the high school this weekend.

According to Greg Patton, Granite City High School's athletic director, a doctor will be administering physicals for both girls and boys this Monday, Oct. 29, in Memorial Gymnasium. According to Patton, girls' exams will begin at 5 p.m. while the session for boys will begin half an hour later, at 5:30 p.m. Cost of the physicals is $5.

fifth place Alton and sixth place Belleville East.

Although the Warrior boys failed to advance an individual to Saturday's sectional competition, they didn't miss by much. Granite City's John Varadian finished 23 overall with a time of 17:53 and missed qualifying by two places.

MIKE HANEY of Belleville was the fifth individual runner to qualify, 17:37, just 16 seconds ahead of Varadian.

Conspicuously missing from the top finishers was Granite City's Darren Bernal who slipped in the mud near the first mile marker. Bernal went on to finish 49th with a time of 19:02 and behind teammates Varadian, Charlie Porter (18:03), Derek Drumira (18:09), Todd Isom (18:28), and Keith Bone (18:54). Mike Charbonnier (19:25) finished behind Bernal.

"John, Charlie and Derek really ran fine races," McClain said afterwards. "But as happy as I am for the three, I've really got to be proud of the girls. They really came through, especially Lora. She really prepared herself for this race."

RUNNING on the course she calls her favorite, Wiser's victory Saturday was her second against Quarengli this season. After winning the Madison County Meet earlier this month with a time of 12:06, she lost to Quarengli a week later in the Southwestern Conference meet in Belleville.

But this day belonged to Wiser. As fiercely as the battle has been this year for Queen of the Hill, never has either beaten the other by the margin that Wiser did Saturday. Quarengli finished eighth overall, with a time of 12:52, 24 seconds behind.

Why the big Wiser finish?

"WHEN I woke up this morning I felt so good, really good," Wiser said. "I've been working real hard at practice this week."

"The practice helped a lot, but I feel like I prepared well mentally for the meet. I was ready for the pressure that comes with a regional."

Indeed, as much as Wiser was mentally prepared for Saturday's meet, Quarengli wasn't.

"This was a terrible run for me," Quarengli said following Saturday's race. "I didn't feel like running. My intensity was there."

Trojans Now 3-5 Trojan comeback not in time; F'burg Midgets hold on to win

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

MADISON In some ways, the dazzling last-ditch comeback the Madison High football Trojans delivered in their 19-12 loss to the Freeburg Midgets Friday night here is indicative of the direction their program is heading.

Upward.

Despite the defeat that dropped their record to 3-5, Trojan coach Don Smith pointed to a silver lining. Smith had served as an assistant coach at Madison before tabbed for the top spot two years ago. He took over a program that had been 0-8 the previous season. That changed his first year at the helm when the Trojans posted three victories.

THE PROGRAM, indeed, endured some bleak days.

"When I was an assistant," Smith noted, "we were everyone's Homecoming game. We kind of opened some eyes last year. Now they're picking on other teams for the Homecoming games. The team has come a long way."

If the program is back on track, the Trojans finally got untracked Friday night. It was a spirited fourth-quarter recovery for the Trojans who nearly made up for five fumbles by scoring two touchdowns in the final 2:22 of the contest.

Darnell Marshall, who was inserted at quarterback replacing the injured Nathan Young, tossed a 10-yard scoring pass to tight end Rouzel Porter for the first tally.

THOUGH an onside kick failed, the Trojans held and got the ball back at approximately their own 30-yard line with seconds remaining. Marshall and Porter again connected, this time with Porter slanting across the middle and taking the ball down the sideline for about 40 yards to the Midgets' 30-yard line. It was reminiscent of his 99-yard scoring aerial the previous week in the Trojans' victory over Red Bud.

Porter, who had a big game with four receptions for 76 yards, was pushed out of bounds with one second remaining. It proved enough time for Marshall to hit running back Reggie Young over the middle for the second score.

WITH NO time remaining, the flurry was futile. Said one Trojan player to a teammate as Young crossed the goal line and the scoreboard clock showed no time left, "If we had two or three more minutes we would take this ball game."

Or, as Smith said simply, "too little, too late."

There's no telling what might have happened, however, if the officials had ruled a touchdown for the Trojans' Lonzo Nelson.

It began with, perhaps, the Trojans best drive of the game. They drove from their own 15-yard line to the shadow of the Freeburg goal early in the fourth quarter. A pair of receptions by Porter plus some hard running by Nelson, who gained 52 yards on nine carries after summoned for duty in the second half, keyed the surge.

THE MARCH was halted at the Freeburg six-yard line when Marshall was thrown for a 19-yard loss, and a subsequent pass was picked off. However, the Trojans regained possession on the next play when Daryl McCormick recovered a fumble at the Midgets 12-yard line.

Three plays later and the ball at the Freeburg five-yard stripe, Nelson looked as if he might have scored when he crossed the goal line on a run. On the play, however, Nelson fumbled the ball.

According to Robbie Poston, one of the Madison statisticians who had a clear view of the play, Nelson crossed the plane of the goal before fumbling. If so, Nelson should have been awarded a touchdown.

"WE HAD to have been at least two steps into the end zone," said Poston.

Smith concurred. "I thought it was a real bad call. It looked as if he had crossed the goal line and took two steps before fumbling."

And Nelson? "It was kind of close," he said.

Nelson indicated the official might have made the correct call, pointing out he could have fumbled the ball as he was crossing the goal line. When it was pointed out he seemingly was being overly honest, the 5-4, 155-pound Nelson, who can bench press 300 pounds, noted, "I try to be."

WHATEVER, the call was critical.

"It could have changed the game around for us," said Smith.

Then, the Trojans probably should not have depended on the call in the first place. Marshall, a spirited leader, was openly critical of the Trojans' early play. "We didn't really have our minds on the game," said Marshall, who completed seven passes in 12 attempts for approximately 143 yards.

"At the end, we started to get our heads back into the game. By then, it was too late."

A bad start, indeed. "Disappointing," said Smith.

THE TROJANS turned the ball over on fumbles their first three possessions. While the offense sputtered (Young managed 61 yards on 16 carries, though Marshall gained just 18 yards on 10 running attempts), so did the defense.

The Midgets, who suited up without five of their starters including two who were set down for poor grades, gladly capitalized.

They scored two touchdowns on back to back possessions in the first quarter, and on the exact same play.

Twice, Freeburg quarterback Mike Frey connected with a wide open tight end Kent Brickey for scores that covered 19 and 30 yards respectively.

FREEBURG coach Dennis Dalke, whose Midgets halted a two-game losing streak to improve their record to 6-2, pointed out that the Trojan defense had left itself vulnerable.

"They left the middle wide open for us and we took advantage of it," said Dalke.

Schrader wins final feature

GRANITE CITY — Kenny Schrader and Steve Quattermouse won the final feature event for the 1984 racing season, Saturday night at Tri-City Speedway.

Schrader from Fenelon, Mo., driving the star chrome racing associates yellow #2 winged Chevy powered sprint car, started the 20-lap feature event on the outside front row alongside Tom Scott of Springfield, Ill.

Schrader wasted no time as he grabbed the lead at the drop of the green flag, going into the first turn and held on the full 20-laps.

Scott was in hot pursuit the entire distance running nose to tail as he would pull up alongside Schrader in the turns, but could not quite match the power of the quick running #2 car and had to settle for 2nd place.

Rick Standridge of Springfield, Ill., did a fine job of driving after flipping his #10 Sprinter in the #4 turn of this heat race as he came back to finish 3rd behind Scott in the main event.

Following Standridge was Dean Adams Jr. of Potosi, Mo., driving the A.B.C. Auto Parts Special #3 in 4th place. Jack Ziegler of Marshall was fifth, Tom Birch sixth, Allen Caton seventh, Kent Christian eighth, Randy Bateman of Murphysboro, Ill. 9th, and Randy Durbin of Maplewood, Mo. tenth.

Jerry Russell of Springfield, Ill., driving the Gus Shom's No. 83, won the first heat race but went out in the trophy dash with mechanical problems and missed the feature event.

Standridge was second in the heat with Adams third. Schrader took the second heat followed by Scott second and Ziegler third. Scott took the trophy dash followed by Schrader and Bateman.

GCHS sectional at Gauntlet not a ploy

As they say in this business, controversy makes for good copy. It takes two sides to make an argument, sure. And when those two sides are as vehemently different and at odds as Granite City's and Collinsville's soccer programs are, it makes for "excellent copy."

Some say there are no better stories than the ones which involve such fiery controversy. But also a lot of harm can come from continued media hype from such controversy.

Well, fanned by allegations and comments of improprieties and underhandedness to get the GCHS Sectional tournament moved to Granite City, the already fierce soccer rivalry between Granite City and Collinsville erupted to an almost violent conclusion at Granite City's High School's soccer field appropriately called the Gauntlet.

The one who received the brunt of blows? GCHS' athletic director Greg Patton.

As mentioned, there are probably no more fierce rivalry between schools than that of the Warriors and the Kahoks. These two warring tribes have been at it for generations. And that's fine. A fierce rivalry is a healthy one providing it's not one laden with hatred. Well, if that healthy rivalry didn't cross the line of hatred Saturday, it came dangerously close.

As Sectional Tournament host the Warriors had planned, along with the help of the Illinois State High School Association, to have the tournament played at Cougar Field on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as it has for the last two years.

Patton wanted it there. Warrior coach Gene Baker wanted it there and Collinsville Coach Jim Stranz made it known that he wanted it there.

EVERYONE was in favor of having the sectional at SIUE.

And it would have been there had it not been for one thing. A simple little thing like SIUE's soccer game against the reigning national champion, University of Indiana, which is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 30, the same day as the scheduled sectional championship game.

Well, what do you do? Change the day of the sectional finale? That would

Sports on the Run

By Alan L. Gertsenecker

have worked, but the IHSA put the kibosh on that. "It has to be played on that day," was the word from Dave Frey, the IHSA soccer adviser.

Tell the NCAA national champion that its game has been changed because a high school game will have priority?

Not hardly. The obvious solution was find another site, and that was Frey's suggestion as well.

Well, let's see. There's an excellent field at Gordon Moore Park in Alton, but there's no gate, no fence. The IHSA says that's a must.

Let's see...there's Collinsville's field, but it's pretty narrow and even Stranz is considering moving some of the Kahoks' games to the Collinsville Sports Complex where there are more accommodating, wider fields.

There aren't that many more fields left.

Hey, how about the Gauntlet?

It's big enough. It's enclosed in a fence. The Tournament of Champions was a huge success there this year. How 'bout it?

Even Frey saw it as the only alternative.

Must be the best choice.

Well, remember that rivalry I talked about?

The common call was a foul one, one of foul play.

"It should be at a neutral site," Stranz is quoted as saying. Everyone agrees, and that's been the case the last couple of years.

Win Soccer Regional

Warriors shut out Tigers, 2-0

By ALAN L. GERTSENECKER

Sports Editor of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — It wasn't very pretty, and it really couldn't have been any way considering the field conditions, but Granite City High School's varsity soccer team defeated Edwardsville Tuesday night 2-0 to win its own regional.

The victory earned the Warriors the right to play Collinsville in Saturday's Granite City Sectional Tournament (See related story).

Playing at the Gauntlet, in what had to be the worst conditions ever for that field, the Warriors picked up their 12th win of the season as Scott Grote and Matt MacLaughlin each scored to lead Granite City to the title game.

PLAYING in what Warrior coach Gene Baker called "by far his best game this season," Grote wasted little time in putting the Warriors on the board, scoring just two minutes and forty seconds into the game.

Receiving a pass from teammate Brent Cook, Grote beat his defender to push the shot past Edwardsville's goalkeeper P. J. Riley for the score. In scoring, the sure-footed Grote took advantage of fullback Jack Daugherty's misfortune as the Tiger defender slipped on the muddy playing field.

"It's been a while since I've scored," a happy Grote said after the game. "This is No. 7 for me and I hope I can keep it up with the game with Collinsville coming up next."

"COACH (Baker) says this is my best game? I'm glad he thinks so because so do I," Grote said. "I feel like I made all the plays I had to. I just dribbled and fired," Grote said of his goal.

For the Warrior senior, the game was a personal triumph as well as a success for the Warriors. Grote, who still tapes his left ankle from a severe sprain earlier in the season, was able to move and cut on the Gauntlet's slippery turf without much problem.

"It's a little stiff right now," Grote said of his ankle. "But, I saw this as a real test for it," he said glancing at his foot. "If it survived this game tonight, it should be ready for anything."

THE WARRIORS held on to their slim, one goal lead that Grote had provided them with for the remainder of the half and through the third quarter before senior Matt MacLaughlin came through with an insurance goal.

MacLaughlin's score came at the 64:44 mark as he teamed up with Cook, who picked up his second assist of the game. Cook, whose sideline throw-ins consistently reach midfield and are every bit as lethal as a corner kick, managed this particular toss to just a few yards in front of the Tiger goal mouth.

Attempting to punch the ball away from the goal, Riley leaped in the air and deflected it away — right towards MacLaughlin who was waiting for just an opportunity.

"SAW Cooke's throw-in, I was right up there. Their keeper made a good play, but it came down right in front of me and I just shot it," MacLaughlin said.

"It's my second goal of the season. I guess I just have good luck against Edwardsville."

MacLaughlin scored his first goal of the season against the Tigers at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's Cougar Field, a game the Warriors won 4-0. "I'm happy for the win," Warrior coach Gene Baker said afterwards. "It was a good win for us under the worst of field conditions. I don't think I've ever seen the field that bad before."

ASSESSING the game, Baker said he thought that the poor field conditions was particularly difficult for the Warriors.

We depend on our quickness and I think the field condition took away a lot of that quickness tonight. By the same sense, if Fran (Edwardsville Coach Dwyer) says he felt it hurt their passing game I've got to agree.

Anything a team does well is made much more difficult on a field in this condition," Baker said.

Despite the shoutout, Dwyer talked of his team much like a proud father would talk of his first born.

"WE PLAYED as well as we could under the conditions. My kids have every reason to be proud. We've had a wonderful season, our best ever. "I would have liked to score on them, and we have even in years when our record wasn't as good, but we're proud. We played a fine ball game."

Indeed, Granite City is perhaps the premier soccer team on the East Side. Indeed, beating Granite City is tough enough without having to contend with playing them at home.

Indeed, there were no other alternatives than Granite City for a sectional site. Knowing that, I wonder if Collinsville or Alton or Edwardsville if they were hosts could have come up with an alternative site considering the conditions.

Wouldn't it be something if Collinsville was hosting the tourney and the same situation arose? Wouldn't it be ironic if the only choice it had and the only one the IHSA rules for sectionals would allow them to have would be Granite City?

For the record, I think Jim Stranz is a fine coach. Few high school coaches know soccer better than he and Baker. They probably won't like being lumped in the same category, but they're both soccer geniuses. Not necessarily two peas in a pod, but they're a lot alike.

For example, both knew what a difficult situation Saturday's game was for both teams. And afterwards, both displayed tact during interviews and limited their remarks to positive aspects of the game.

"(Warrior goalie Jeb) Blasingame had a tremendous game," Stranz said.

"(Kahok striker Tony) Ellis had a superb game," Baker said.

These two guys have done so much for high school soccer in Southern Illinois is phenomenal.

My point is, these two should be able to talk and discuss soccer without going to the media to vent what one may see as an unfair advantage for the other.

Sometimes as unfair and as underhanded some things may appear on the outside, may not be so when you get a few of the facts.

'Lucky' Stars edge Johnson

By JOE THOMPSON of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Larry Petri wasn't seen making the sign of the cross, standing so as not to touch a sideline marker, or performing some other chore that suggested he might be superstitious.

But the coach of the Granite City center soccer Stars is keenly aware of the importance of luck in determining the outcome of matches.

The Stars luck, ill-begotten much of the season, made a sharp U-turn in their match Saturday against Johnson County of Kansas City, Mo. Johnson County's Dale Mann broke open a 0-0 deadlock midway into the first half by kicking a ball into an open net — his own.

THE GOAL helped the Stars to a 2-1 triumph, a victory that closes out their regular season at 4-0 and, more significantly, provides them with a lift going into the playoffs that begin Wednesday.

Welcome back, good fortune. Praise the Stars.

"I know how the other coach (Dan Dally) felt," said Petri. "I've been preaching to the players that we've been the unluckiest team we could be. But that, sooner or later, the breaks would change. They did today. Hopefully, they'll continue into the playoffs."

Rest assured, the Stars complimented the turn of luck with some skillful play.

NEWLY NOLAN, early in the first half, drew a penalty kick for the Stars when he was dragged down in the goalie's box. The Stars might have been thinking bad luck was still with them, however, Jim Doyle made good on the penalty kick, but the goal was disallowed because it was ruled a Stars' player was in the penalty box area when the shot was taken.

Johnson County, a staunch opponent as noted by their narrow losses to Florissant Valley (3-1) and Forest Park (4-0 in double overtime), fought back in the second half. John Birch, with the aid of a strong breeze, bended in a shot past Stars' keeper Jeff Lantz into a corner of the goal to tie the score.

THE STARS needed no luck in the next turn of events. Shortly after Johnson County's tying goal, the Stars' Scott Pelton and Marty Rocco combined superbly for the winning tally. Pelton sent a pass through the Johnson County defense to Rocco who, taking the ball on the dead stride, rocketed a bullet of a shot into the lower right part of the goal.

The Stars maintained their pressure. Later in the half, Nolan dribbled past three Johnson County defenders into the penalty box area. The hard part seemed over as Nolan cranked up for a shot from point blank range.

"I had it then," he said.

"BEFORE he could take his shot, however, Nolan was tackled heavily from behind. No foul was called, though Nolan thought the foul was much more severe than the foul earlier in which a penalty kick was called.

No matter. The Stars "lucky stars" had twinkled brightly enough, as it was.

MATCH POINTS: The Stars play Lincolnland of Springfield, Ill., in their opening round match Wednesday at Lincolnland. No time has been established.

The Stars are seeded third in the tournament. Lincolnland is ranked second. Should the Stars win, they would play the winner of the match Wednesday between top-seeded Lewis & Clark and Lincoln. That contest would be played Saturday.

While Lewis & Clark may possess greater talent than the Stars, Petri pointed to another variable that could play a decisive role should the two teams meet: desire.

"It becomes a mental game," said Petri. "Which team wants it the most. Who will make the best effort to take the game."

Doctor from China visits Dr. Sultan

By ED GURNEY

In the United States, it's not unusual for someone with an allergy problem to see a medical specialist. In the Republic of China, most people with such problems get treatment from a regular physician, according to Dr. Shih Tao Yeh, one of only about 200 allergy specialists in that country.

SHIH WAS in the area last week to learn more about the environmentally oriented approach to treating allergies as practiced by Dr. Tipu Sultan.

Shih, who has an allergy clinic at Capitol Medical College in Beijing, is in the middle of a three-month visit to the United States.

Sultan operates an allergy treatment center. He was Shih's host here.

Shih was the honored guest in Chicago earlier this month at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Environmental Medicine, also attended by Sultan. Shih, 58, is making his second visit to the United States.

SULTAN SAID he himself is one of about 1,000 of the 6,000 specialists in the United States who believe allergies involving such things as foods and chemicals as well as inhalants are responsible for a number of health problems not previously associated with allergic conditions. Sultan said that while many specialists treat the symptoms, he seeks to find the cause of an allergy problem.

Shih said he will teach what he learns to other doctors in China. Dietary habits and housing environments are different in his country, but the approach to treating related allergies can be adapted, he said. A STUDY AMONG 6,000 people in Beijing indicated 37 percent have had or currently have allergy problems, Shih said. Sultan estimated the number in the United States could be as high as 50 percent.

Shih's allergy clinic has about 150 patients a day, most of whom have been treated by a regular physician. "If they cannot solve the problem they refer it to my clinic," he said. His clinic and hospital is run by the government. Care for patients is usually paid by their workplace, "but we don't call it health insurance," Shih said.

Shih said he is impressed with the efficiency of clinic work here and the use of computers and copying machines. "We have no such kinds of things," he said.

McBride predicts bright long-term future for GC Steel

By GARY SCHNEIDER

The effect of the marriage of National Steel Corp. and Nippon Kokan K.K. of Japan "can only be positive for now, the future and for growth in the future. It is going to mean Granite City Steel's contribution to this community is going to assure growth," Bob McBride, president of National Steel Corp. told a large gathering at last week's 44th annual meeting of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

McBride was the guest speaker for the event, which attracted the largest audience to a Chamber-annual dinner in many years. The ceremonies took place at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

GRANITE CITY STEEL is 106 years old has been "by far the best investment National Steel has ever made. Granite City is the oldest plant of National and I think the leanest and the meanest," McBride said.

He noted that the purchase of the plant by National Steel is "the greatest thing that ever happened to Granite City. I don't know if we would be here tonight if that purchase had not happened," he added. McBride shared some somber thoughts with the gathering, saying that the world capacity for steel production greatly exceeds the world's demand for steel. "Look down the road five years and it looks like that capacity still is going to grow. Worldwide, there is 200 million tons more capacity than demand," he said, adding, "Demand is flat in the world and in the U.S. is shrinking."

NOT SINCE 1974 has the demand come close to reaching the steel-making capacity of this country, he noted.

He warned that the U.S. steel industry is "big, fat and ugly. Wages are way out of line with the rest of the world. The steel industry as a whole has a lousy image."

"The Japanese are eating us up. They're better than we are. They make better quality steel at a lower cost. They also are eating us up in automobiles, binoculars, radios, cameras, you name it."

THE PROBLEM won't be solved in Washington. They don't make steel in Washington. What they make might be used for fertilizer in farm fields around here.

"Our industry won't get well in five years, no matter what they are telling the people in Washington. The answer is in management," he said.

If the Granite City Steel expansions of 1963 had taken place under Japanese management, McBride said, "I would decide how to run it at top quality. They approach it differently. We are going to be the best in the world."

Japanese, however, are now being invaded (in steel competition) by Korea the same as Japan invaded the U.S.A.," McBride said.

He noted that employment in the United States steel industry has been cut in half since 1964, from 500,000 to about 250,000 and predicted, "It won't come back. At least not hard and fast." He predicted continuing mergers and joint ventures in the steel industry in years to come. He declined to discuss the proposed merger of National Intergrupp, Inc., parent company of National Steel, and Bergan Brunswick Corp., saying he does not have enough information on that proposal to comment.

GUEST SPEAKER Bob McBride, at podium, president of National Steel Corp. addresses a large crowd at the 44th annual

McBride said he is proud that in 1983, National Steel was the first major integrated steel company to be "in the black. We were the only one for the year 1983. We are very proud of that."

SEVERE winter weather in January 1984 slowed production and caused late deliveries, so the Granite City mill has been catching up since, he noted.

He praised the U.S. Justice Department for rejecting a proposed purchase of National Steel Corp. by U.S. Steel and said he feels the merger with Nippon Kokan will be a better merger for the future of the corporation and its plants.

He concluded that the brightest hope for rapid rejuvenation of the domestic steel industry is added Japanese production within this country. He predicts Japanese auto firms will locate here, other Japanese manufacturing in the U.S. imported Japanese slabs processed here and other improvements. "The leverage of a Japanese relationship can only help us with their strong technology," McBride added.

McBride's TALK followed the installation of new officers for the Chamber and the annual address of Executive Vice President James R. Pennekamp.

Pennekamp noted that the thrust of the Chamber in the past year has been to form and strengthen partnerships with state and local agencies such as the Regional Commerce and Growth Association, the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, Madison County Community Development, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois and others.

The aim for the upcoming year is to bring the public sector and the private sector together. "Decisions by either tend to have an effect on each of us. We need a public and private sector partnership to resolve the problems that we, as a community, are facing. The programs of the Chamber within the next year will all be in the public-private sector area," he noted.

WILLIAM PATTON, retiring president, thanked the chairman of all the Chamber committees for assisting him during the year. He noted that Terrance Seabolt, vice president of Granite City Steel, was to become the Chamber's president for the upcoming year, but was transferred to National Steel's Detroit operations, so David Schermer has agreed to serve as president.

Schermer, 29, noted that he is the youngest president the Chamber has ever had and said he looks forward to the challenges of the upcoming year. "My only goal is to stand here

(at the annual meeting) next year and tell you our community is better because we had an active and viable Chamber of Commerce," he said. Schermer said it is happy that the Chamber's Board of Directors has officially endorsed the school referendum on the Nov. 6 ballot and asked all Chamber members to help support passage of the bond issue and referendum. "If any community would fail to properly support its schools, it might have trouble supporting its other basic needs," Schermer said.

PRESENTS, including scrapbooks of the Chamber's achievements of the past year, were presented to Patton and Beverly Partney, retiring president of the Chamber's Women's Division. Jacqueline DeWitt, the incoming president of the Women's Division, presented the gifts to Mrs. Partney.

Net proceeds will be used to repay outstanding short-term borrowings and be applied to new construction. Goldman, Sachs & Co. is the sole underwriter of the proposed offering.

The company is engaged in the generation, transmission, distribution and sale of electric energy and the distribution and sale of natural gas in an area of 15,000 square miles of Illinois.

Illinois Power offering stock

Illinois Power Company announced last week it has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission covering a proposed public offering of 3,000,000 shares of the company's common stock.

Net proceeds will be used to repay outstanding short-term borrowings and be applied to new construction. Goldman, Sachs & Co. is the sole underwriter of the proposed offering.

The company is engaged in the generation, transmission, distribution and sale of electric energy and the distribution and sale of natural gas in an area of 15,000 square miles of Illinois.

Preschoolers to march

Preschoolers in the Granite City Park District will parade down Franklin Avenue from Amos Avenue to Cottage Avenue and back at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 30 and 31, weather permitting.

The preschoolers will be wearing Halloween costumes they made themselves. The public is being invited to view the event.

As usual, with any important issue, there are rumors spreading around our community. We are going to clear up some misconceptions so that all of the voters will have the information they need to make a wise decision on Tuesday, Nov. 6. The following questions have been drawn to let you find out if you can separate the truth from the false rumors. See how well you do.

HOW LONG WOULD IT TAKE A TAXPAYER TO PAY FOR JUST ONE CHILD'S EDUCATION?

The answers to this quiz and more will be presented in an entertaining and enlightening program on Southwestern Cable Television Channel 1-22 on Tuesday, October 30, at 7:00 p.m. Tune in to find out what you need to know to be an informed voter.

Remember, your vote does make a difference to our schools and our community.

Anniversaries

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Jennings mark 50 years of marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Joseph Jennings, 1725 State St., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary during the weekend by renewing their marriage vows at the 11:30 a.m. Mass at St. Joseph Catholic Church, Sunday.

Mr. Jennings and his wife, the former Nellie Krill, were married at 11:30 a.m. Oct. 28, 1934, at St. Joseph Church. Attending the couple at their wedding was Frank Jennings and Josephine Krill Williamson, a brother and sister of the couple.

For 30 years Mr. and Mrs. Jennings operated Jennings Market at 2262 State St., until they retired.

They returned last week from Cedar Falls, Iowa, where they celebrated their anniversary at a family dinner with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don (Jo Ann) Schmitts and grandchildren, Merl Damian and Neil Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. John Papp to mark 60th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Papp, 4206 Lake Drive, will be honored on their 60th wedding anniversary at an open house reception on Sunday, Nov. 4, hosted by their children.

Guests will be received from 2 to 5 p.m. at St. John Lutheran Church hall at St. Clair and Dale avenues. Friends and neighbors are invited to attend and are requested not to bring gifts, according to a family spokesman.

Mr. Papp and his wife, the former Esther Hulka, were married on Nov.

3, 1924 in Granite City. Both are natives of Padina, Yugoslavia. Mr. Papp came to this country at age five and his wife arrived when she was 14 years old.

The honorees are active members of St. John Lutheran Church. Mr. Papp, a building contractor and carpenter in this area for many years, retired several years ago.

They have 18 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Hosting the social event will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Esther) Gilmore of Collinsville, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy (Josie) Diak, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth (Mary Ann) Cowan and Mr. and Mrs. Tom (Nadine) Papp of Granite City. Another son, Dan Papp, resides in Las Vegas, Nev.

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Jennings

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bicanic Sr.

50th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bicanic

Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Bicanic Sr., of 3321 Colgate Place, were guests of honor at a dinner party given Saturday, Oct. 27, at Charlie's Restaurant to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

The social affair was planned and hosted by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis (V) A. Bicanic Jr., 3145 Golf Circle, Danville, Ill., formerly of Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Bicanic also have two grandchildren.

He worked for General Steel Industries for 33 years and 10 years at Pittsburgh Testing Laboratories before retiring.

Mr. Bicanic, a native of St. Louis, and his wife, the former Ann J. Bezan of Madison, were married on Oct. 31, 1934, at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison.

They are now members of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic, and have resided in Granite City for 50 years.

DAR schools is program topic

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its October meeting in the Chimney Room of the Burns Cafeteria. Regent, Sandra Wilkins, presided, assisted by Linda Koenig, acting Chaplain.

Georgia Engelke presented the National Defense report and Barbara Williams read the President General's Message. Correspondence was read from Mrs. Dorothy Buenger, only living charter member, that the Henry Mace and Drusilla Andrews Mace deed will be placed in the Americana Collection of Constitution Hall, one of the DAR owned buildings in Washington, D.C. Emma Schoen and Florence Simpson reported on the Division VI Roundtable meeting held at Altamont, Ill. Drusilla Andrews was the hostess chapter, it was noted.

Mrs. Ronald L. Mordhorst, from the Cahokia Mound Chapter and also state corresponding secretary, presented the program on the DAR Schools. The society supports two schools in Appalachian area, Tamassee DAR School at Tamassee, S.C., and Kate Duncan Smith DAR School at Grant, Ala.

Tamassee is for boys and girls who need a home and education provided for them. Students are on a work-study program. The group viewed a slide program from Kate Duncan Smith School which serves about 1,000 pupils from underprivileged families in the area. Both schools are accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Others in attendance were guest, Mary Hamilton, and members, Mae McCormick, Mildred McCormick, Ethel Beeler, and Jane Vanesler.

Thomas parents of girl

Robert and Evette Thomas, formerly of Granite City and now at Port Folk, La., have announced the birth of their first child, a daughter, born Oct. 6. She weighed seven pounds, one ounce, and has been named Megan Nicole.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Clark of Granite City and paternal grandparents are Robert Thomas of St. Louis and Tina Thomas of Granite City. Great-grandparents are Bill and Margie Thomas and Joseph and Shemona, all of Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols name son Benjamin

Benjamin Ryan is the name selected by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nichols, 7 Bradley Ave., for their son who was born on Oct. 17 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The new arrival weighed 8 pounds, 5 ounces, and has a 3-year old brother, Nathan John Albert.

The mother is the former Maureen Hogan, daughter of Mrs. Donna Kimbro, Granite City, and the late John Hogan. The paternal grandparents are, Mrs. Virginia Nichols, Granite City, and the late Albert Nichols.

Great-grandparents are, Mr. and Mrs. Clem (Alberta) Hoer of Marlinburg, Mo., Mrs. Gladys Nichols of Mexico, Mo., Emile "Ace" DaMotte, Granite City, and the late Guy Nichols and the late Charles Duckworth.

First child arrives for Charles Ruths

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruth of 3120 Aubrey Ave., welcomed their first child, a boy, on Oct. 15 at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

The infant has been named Matthew Christopher and he weighed 8 pounds, 5 ounces.

Mrs. Ruth is the former Janet Sudholt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sudholt of Bowling Green, Ky. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruth of Granite City.

Great-grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ruth and Joseph Gable, all of St. Louis.

SIUC switches on new computer system in December

When Southern Illinois University at Carbondale switches on a new IBM mainframe computer in December, SIU will enter the prevailing current of the computer age — a step that could sweep SIU into a "leading position among major research institutions in Illinois."

according to Leo Y. Min, SIU's director of Computing Affairs. Min says SIU's existing system, which has been ruminating at "saturation levels," has caused a "computer generation gap" that's going to take time to close. And it was bought only four years ago. "WE ARE TRYING to catch up three generations," Min said. "It won't happen right away, but in terms of computer service quality, we should be a leader among state-supported universities within three years."

SIU is buying an IBM 3081-GX model for about $2.4 million and expects to have it running by Christmas. The purchase kicks off phase one of a long-range tactical computing plan whose essential aim is to boost "computer literacy" levels at SIU. Min has his own phrase for it: "Affirmative action for computer use." He sees the big computers as an all-purpose tool for improving research, teaching and learning.

For campus users who've long been resigned to mainframe response lags of anywhere from five seconds to a minute on such instructional programs as MUSIC, the new computer will bring blessed relief. Min promises response times of one or two seconds.

DIAL-UP PORTS for telephone access, which now number 10 during the day and 20 at night, will be increased to 40 for both day and night use.

The big computer will allow installation of 100 more terminals on campus and will improve student ac-

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has released the first of its soybean varieties developed for resistance to the soybean cyst nematode, a root-feeding pest that is spreading in Illinois.

Plant geneticist Oval Myers of the SIU School of Agriculture announced the release of the variety, which he named Egyptian, on Oct. 1. "Release" means that foundation seed is being produced for distribution to certified seed producers who will grow seed beans for use on farms in 1986.

Illinois soybean farmers paid for breeding the new cultivar through contributions to the statewide Illinois Soybean Program Operating Board (ISPOB).

"I'm real proud of this new variety," said Bill Tiberend, executive director of the ISPOB. "There hasn't been as much work to breed resistance to the cyst nematode as there should be."

"WE BEGAN supporting SIU's breeding program about eight years ago. It was very innovative for us to cooperate with the university, essentially to create a position to breed soybeans for this area."

"We have probably spent $50,000 to $60,000 per year on this program. That's been a good investment when you consider that the loss to one farmer from the cyst nematode can exceed that in any year."

Monroe County farmer Lloyd Bulcher, who is chairman of the farmer-run ISPOB, said the farmer board is pleased with what it has seen of the new cultivar.

cess to the mainframe "by 100 percent," Min says. SIUE also is eyeing computer terminals in dormitories as another blow for access and literacy.

"Essentially, what the new computer will give us is maximum horsepower for a limited budget," Min said.

UNIVERSITY consultants have said the new mainframes itself could be saturated by 1990, but Min sees that as "a positive sign."

"In five years the new mainframe will still be an excellent machine, one that we can be proud of. But when the university's computer demand increases, it's a sign that we are growing and moving forward."

Long-term expansion pivots, according to Min, will be a boost for research activities, specialized computer courses for "non-traditional" users, and faster and faster access to administrative data bases and data analysis.

"If we let the computer to more standardized work loads at the university, we'll be able to concentrate more on individual needs and creative pursuits," he said. "With that comes improvement in the quality of life."

SIUC grows Egyptian soybean

"THIS NEW variety looks great and it seems to have a lot of potential," he said. "Looking at the figures on its yields and performance we can say it certainly has potential."

The newly-released Egyptian is a maturity group four soybean, which means, by definition, that it can be grown in an area of Illinois roughly southward of Effingham, Myers said. But because of its relatively early maturation date, "the practical (northward) limit for growing Egyptian in Illinois may be around Salem," he said.

It matures about five days earlier than a group five bean called Nathan and 14 days later than Franklin, which is a faster-maturing group four bean, Myers said.

EGYPTIAN SHARES some of Nathan's and Franklin's genetic background, but Egyptian's middle maturation and strong resistance to lodging (falling down) should make it better suited for double-cropping after wheat, according to Myers.

"Egyptian was released because of its yields and its resistance to both races three and four of the soybean cyst nematode," Myers said. Those races are the most virulent forms of the potentially devastating pest.

Nathan is resistant to races three and four of the nematode, and Franklin is resistant to race three, but yield trials in Southern Illinois and in the South showed consistently better yields for Egyptian, according to a release announcement prepared by SIU. Egyptian also competed well against the popular variety Williams and high-yielding, longer-maturing varieties like Essex.

OVER FIVE years, and throughout the extended drought of 1983, Egyptian averaged almost 39 bushels per acre in Southern Illinois. Myers said he named the cultivar Egyptian because of the widespread use of Egyptian imagery in Southern Illinois. The region allegedly earned the nickname of Egypt once when an early frost killed northern Illinois corn crops prevented statewide famine.

SIU is exploring a patent on the new variety. If granted, the variety would be sold only as a class of certified seed.

UNIVERSITIES that asked to cooperate in the release of the new cultivar include the University of Kentucky and the University of Illinois.

On campus briefs

SIU at Edwardsville

JACK G. SHAHEEN, professor of mass communications at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will address the 1984 International Press Seminar in Paris, France, on Oct. 30. The theme of the meeting is "Crossed Wires" — the failings and missed opportunities of the Western media. "Shaheen will address the subject of 'The Screen Arab.'"

The meeting will be attended by such figures as Helmut Schmidt, former chancellor of West Germany; Denis Healey, former British chancellor of the exchequer and now opposition spokesman on foreign affairs in the British Parliament; Melina Mercouri, actress and minister of culture for Greece; M. Raymond Barre, former prime minister of France; and Dr. Bruno Kreisky, former chancellor of Austria.

Belleville Area College

GRANITE CITY CENTER of Belleville Area College is offering a non-credit basic photography course this fall. The class will meet from 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays, Nov. 3, 10 and 17 at the center, 4950 Maryville Road. The fee for the class is $25. For information and to register, students may call 931-0602.

THE MOVIE "FOOTLOOSE" will be shown Wednesday, Oct. 31, at Belleville Area College's Granite City Center. The movie will be shown at 5:30 p.m. in the cafeteria at the center, 4950 Maryville Road. Admission is free. The movie is rated PG.

BELLEVILLE AREA COLLEGE'S Business Assistance Center's seminar on managing job stress will meet from 1 to 5 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 1, at the college's Granite City Center, 4950 Maryville Road. This seminar is designed to increase awareness of the role that stress plays in life and how to prevent and manage that stress. Participants will develop a personal plan of action to help manage the stress in their life and job. Malcolm Goldsmith, the guest speaker, is an associate professor and coordinator of health education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The $10 fee for the seminar includes materials, coffee and rolls.

Forum reviews candidates' policies

The economic policies of Ronald Reagan and Walter Mondale will be contrasted during a public forum Wednesday, Oct. 31, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The forum is to begin at 2:30 p.m. in the Oak-Hackberry Room of the University Center and is sponsored by the Center for Economic Education at SIUE. Robert Kohn, an economics professor, will act as moderator.

AMONG SPEAKERS from the department of economics and their topics are: David Luan, the federal deficit; Don Elliot, tax policy; Ann Schweir, monetary policy; Stanford Levin, monetary regulations; Steve Lin, economics and the environment; John Meisel, mergers; David Ault, exports, imports and industry; Jerry Hollenhorst, government spending; Paul Sultan, taxation; and Russ Hasting, welfare.

For more information, interested persons may contact the economics department at 1-692-2542.

FSA initiation planned

Granite City High School's Future Secretaries Association will conduct initiation ceremonies at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 30, in the cafeteria building.

Parents and friends of the initiates are being asked to attend.

Home invaders tie up GC woman with tape

Granite City detectives are continuing to investigate an incident at 2:15 p.m. Thursday in which a woman was the target of two robbers. They tied her up with duct tape after invading her home.

Upon answering the door of her home in the 3100 block of Peeling Road, the retired woman found a man standing on the porch. He reported having a package for her daughter.

The brown-haired man, who was about 25 years old and about five feet five inches tall, held a clipboard containing a list of names and his photograph under the clip.

Although the last name offered by the robber appeared correct, the first name was wrong, a point she questioned.

Another man—holding a sawed-off shotgun or rifle—walked up behind the first man and ordered the woman to go into the living room and lie face down on the couch.

She complied although she couldn't see, heard the pair searching through the house and ransacking drawers and cabinets.

The robbers then ordered the victim into the bedroom, where they tied her hands and feet with tape.

Again, she heard them searching through the dwelling and basement area.

About five minutes after hearing them leave, the woman managed to free herself and called police. Her 1983 auto, which had been parked outside, also was gone but was recovered less than an hour later on Interstate 270 near the Chain of Rocks Causeway.

The second intruder also was in his mid-20s, about five feet five inches tall, and had brown hair and a full beard. Both men were wearing blue jeans.

About one hour and 15 minutes had elapsed from the time the men entered the home before police were called.

Property at the residence was inventoried Friday to determine what items were missing.

ALLEGED BATTERY OF CHILD

James D. Marler, 56, of 2701 Kirkpatrick Homes was booked for battery last week. The mother of a nine-year-old girl alleged her son was in the kitchen of her home when he grabbed her daughter by the neck and threw her into a chair.

Commodities to be distributed

Officials in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships and the Salvation Army have announced that they will give out surplus government commodities this week.

Commodities will include processed cheese, cheddar cheese, butter, dry milk, honey, cornmeal and flour. The honey, cornmeal, dry milk and flour are in short supply and persons will be asked to take their choice of one.

All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis.

To be eligible to receive commodities, persons must be residents of the township where they are getting the cheese, must be the head of a household or the spouse, and must have their Social Security number and sign an affidavit that their total household income is within the guidelines.

Recipients are to bring some proof of residency other than a driver's license. An unpaid utility bill or a voter's registration card is considered adequate.

Monthly income guidelines are as follows: one person, $319; two persons, $700; three persons, $881; four persons, $1,063; five persons, $1,244; six persons, $1,425; seven persons, $1,606; eight persons, $1,789. Another $181 may be added for each additional member of the household.

Chouteau Township will begin its distribution at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31, at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 697a N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell. Officials stress that the doors will not be opened until 9:30 a.m. so that they can get the program set up properly.

Venice Township will give out commodities at 9 a.m. Friday, Nov. 2, at Agert's Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue, Madison. Township officials advise that honey should not be fed to children under 12 months of age.

Officials note there will be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, creed or national origin. The Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., will begin distribution of commodities to Granite City Township residents at 9 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 1. A representative of the Salvation Army said commodities will not be distributed if there is inclement weather. She also advised that the cheese will be distributed on Thursday only, unless there are leftovers.

Nameoki Township will give away commodities starting at 7:30 a.m. Thursday. The food will be given out at the township hall, 4250 Highway 162.

PONTON BEACH MAN HURT THURSDAY ON HIGHWAY

Gary L. Horn, 36, of 3813 Lake St., Ponton Beach, was hurt in a two-vehicle collision at 3:55 p.m. Thursday on Illinois Route 3 about 300 feet north of the West 20th Street intersection. He was going north on Route 3 when a blue Mustang suddenly changed lanes, entering his lane and causing him to apply the brakes and lose control of his pickup truck.

Breck S. Rushing, 21, Bethalto, driving the same way as Horn, saw the incident and Horn's pickup sliding sideways, but was unable to avoid it. The blue car continued north on Route 3 without stopping. Horn was taken to the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

INJURIES BASIS OF TWO CHARGES AGAINST MAN

Johnny W. Lindsey, 19, of 2458 Benton St. was arrested on two counts of battery last week after Tim Joseph, 2124r Delmar Ave., alleged being beaten about the face. Joseph said his hair was pulled and he was kicked several times. Pamela Muth of Granite City reported trying to talk to Lindsey through a car window when she was kicked in the chest. Lindsey, named at 20th and Benton streets, posted $204 bail.

Cards of Thanks

WE WISH to express our deep gratitude to our many friends and relatives for the sympathy and beautiful floral offerings in our recent bereavement. A special thanks to Mercer Mortuary, pallbearers from VFW Post 1290, especially to Fr. Robert Heintz of Sacred Heart Church and the ladies who served the luncheon. The Family of ROSE KOVAR. 31 10 29

WE WISH to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who so kindly assisted and for the words of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings extended at the death of our beloved mother. Special thanks to Rev. Hunt and Rev. Pierson and the Nameoki Presbyterian Church. The Family of ILO KENDALL. 31 10 29

WE WISH to extend our appreciation to all our friends and relatives who attended our 50th wedding anniversary party and made it such a happy event. Although we have not lived in this area for many years, we were lifelong residents of the Quad-City area until moving to Florida 32 years ago. Also, we want to thank the ladies of Hope Lutheran Church for serving refreshments. — Mr. and Mrs. William (Lela) Parker. 31 10 29

WE WISH to express our appreciation for the cards, flowers, prayers and sympathy extended to us during the illness and death of our loved one, REV. L. SHOWERS. We especially wish to thank Mercer's Mortuary, St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Rev. Jeffrey Davis, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, for the beautiful message and Dwan Bridges and Marilyn Chrusciel for the lovely music. — Mrs. L. Showers and Family. 31 10 29

RETURN WITH US TO...

Phil Harris

THIS WELL-KNOWN BANDLEADER BECAME A MAJOR CHARACTER ON JACK BENNY'S RADIO SHOW AFTER BENNY'S WRITERS WORKED HIM INTO THE SCRIPTS. SO SUCCESSFUL WAS PHIL HARRIS' CHARACTERIZATION OF A LOVABLE EGOMANIAC THAT HE EVENTUALLY GOT HIS OWN SERIES FOR FITCH SHAMPOO.

HARRIS WOULD SAY GOODBYE TO BENNY WITH A BRASH SO LONG, JACKSON! WHEN LOOKING IN A MIRROR HE INVARIABLY CROWED, OY YOU DAWGERS! THERE WERE ALSO JOKES ABOUT HIS DRINKING. OFFSTAGE HE WAS QUITE DIFFERENT... NOT AT ALL BRASH BUT AN AVID SPORTSMAN AND DEDICATED HUSBAND OF ACTRESS ALICE FAYE.

PHIL HARRIS STARTED OUT AS A DRUMMER BEFORE LEADING HIS OWN BAND. XAVIER CUGAT WAS AT ONE TIME A VIOLINIST FOR HIM.

AMONG HIS MOST SUCCESSFUL RECORDINGS AS A SINGER WAS THE SONG THAT CAME TO BE HIS TRADEMARK... "THAT'S WHAT I LIKE ABOUT THE SOUTH."

EYECARE

THE EYE DOCTORS

ONLY AT WEISSER EYECARE A BREAKTHROUGH IN PROFESSIONAL EYECARE

TOTAL & COMPLETE EYECARE
OPTOMETRISTS, OPHTHALMOLOGISTS & OPTICIANS

THE CONSULTING OPHTHALMOLOGIST PHYSICIAN, SURGEON, SPECIALIST TEAMS UP WITH THE WEISSER OPTOMETRIST

Our Optometrists work in conjunction with foremost Ophthalmologists—doctors who specialize in diseases and surgery of the eye. Weisser patients find an extra measure of security knowing that these distinguished medical experts not only work directly with the Weisser Optometrists, but are on call for consultation 24 hours a day.

The Ophthalmologists have received advanced training in the newest and most sophisticated forms of cataract-implant, laser beam and refractive corneal surgery.

Because Weisser cares about your eyes, they combine the expertise of optometry and ophthalmology.
